NAVAL BASE SITE GIVEN S. F. BACKING

Chamber of Commerce Starts Policy of Open, Energetic Support of Rodman and Engineers' Reports in Case

Alameda Project Receives Personal Advocacy From Secretary Denby; Department to Boost It in House

Announcement of the adoption of a policy by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce of openly and energetically supporting the Rodman and other naval reports favoring the establishment of a naval base at Alameda, and the receipt of a telegram from Representative James H. MacLafferty, giving word that machinery at Washington was being speeded up with this purpose as its objective, were developments in the naval base situation today.

Word that the Chamber of Commerce in San Francisco adopted the policy of supporting plans for the opening of the base at Alameda was given out today by Wallace Alexander, president, and Robert Newton Lynch, vice-president and manager. This is the first public announcement of any policy taken openly by that organization regarding the proposed base.

DENBY GIVES PERSONAL SUPPORT.

Simultaneously came announcement of the receipt of MacLafferty's telegram, which declared that the entire navy department, headed by Secretary Denby, personally, was backing the Alameda project, and that representatives of the department would appear before the House committee on naval affairs to urge the passage of the MacLafferty bill. This bill provides for the acceptance by the government of the naval base site which has been offered by Alameda.

Officers of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce today declared that they believed the time had arrived when definite action should be taken looking to the carrying out of the Navy department's recommendations concerning the projects. These recommendations, made public recently in the navy department report, provided for the acceptance by the government of the site and the establishment of a base which would be capable of functioning for not only the entire Pacific fleet but for the entire navy, should necessity arise.

CAUSE OF S. F. CHAMBER ACTION.

The action by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce was taken following the announcement by the navy department that the entire United States fleet would be stationed in the Pacific. This makes the need of an adequate naval base in the Pacific paramount, and the reports of the several boards give the proposed site at Alameda as the logical and most efficient location.

In going on record as favoring the Alameda naval project, heads of the San Francisco Chamber asserted that if the fleet is to be maintained in the Pacific, more adequate facilities must be provided.

Both United States senators from California and the congressional delegation at Washington from this state were notified today of the policy of the San Francisco Chamber, which, it was pointed out, stands ready to support the navy and a representation of delegates to Washington in interest of the site approved by the navy.

CHAMBER ACTION IS SIGNIFICANT.

The first announcement of the Alameda naval base policy by the San Francisco business men's organization was regarded today by many as very significant.

Whether it will be decided by that organization to send a delegation to the capitol to work in favor of the MacLafferty bill, is still uncertain, but this step is being seriously considered.

At present Captain F. H. Ainsworth is the Washington representative of the Bay Naval Affairs Committee. Today Captain Ainsworth sent an open telegram to the citizens of the bay district and the civic organizations, urging co-operation in the plan to have a naval base hearing held.

Captain Ainsworth wired to Harvey M. Toy, chairman of the committee, asking that he communicate with organizations urging them to wire their representatives at once demanding that hearings be held immediately.

According to Toy, the move is being made to bring the qualifications of the Alameda site to the front.

In his wire Captain Ainsworth set forth that the fight on the naval base issue is rapidly coming to a head and the telegram will give weight to the demands of MacLafferty that the hearings be continued. He said that Congressman Curry does not desire a hearing.

It is understood from Washington that the needs of the United States navy are so imperative that unless some action is taken almost

Two Murderers Drive a Stolen Car Past Guard

San Quentin Officers Joined By Deputies in Scouring Bay District For Pair.

Driving a stolen car past guards, machine gun towers and outposts, two murderers this morning escaped from San Quentin prison and both Marin county and this side of the bay are now being scoured by prison officers and deputy officers in a search for them.

The men escaping are Thomas Walton, aged 37, a life term from Siskiyou county, who entered the prison January 29, 1916, and Seth P. Burk, aged 25, serving life for murder in San Luis Obispo county, received at San Quentin August 31, 1915.

Burk and Walton, who were trustees employed as coal's helpers in the officers' mess, were outside the prison walls to the coal bins before 8 o'clock this morning. Instead of getting coal, they went to a garage in the electrical department, obtained a Ford automobile bearing the name State of California on the side and having the license number E-12398, and drove out of the prison grounds headed toward Greenbrae.

With Walton driving and Burk crouching on the floor of the tonneau and the drive curtains up, the fugitives drove leisurely past the guard towers and outposts, made their way along the winding road which is commanded from a dozen points by high towers occupied by expert riflemen.

ROFF VILLAGE PASSED IN FORD.

After they were some little distance from the prison, the escaped murderers set off at a high speed and the last heard of them they had passed through the village of Roff, violating all traffic laws.

Posses of prison guards were organized and began a search of the hills under the command of Warden J. A. Johnston and Captain of the Guard Myron Clark. Sheriff Geo. A. Keating of Marin county, placed a large number of deputies at the command of the prison officials, and every avenue of escape has now been cut off, it is said.

The only other possibility was that the escapes doubled back to Pt. San Quentin and caught a ferry to Richmond.

The escape was not discovered until shortly before noon, thus giving the prisoners at least three hours' start of their pursuers.

Guards who report having seen the state car go by, declared that a person attired in ordinary clothes was driving and that no one else was in the front seat. It is presumed that Walton secured other clothing, either from the car itself or from the garage, and that Burk hid in the tonneau, concealed by the storm curtains.

GUARDS AT FIRST NOT SUSPICIOUS.

The guards had no reason to challenge the car as it passed through the prison grounds since, at that time, no alarm had sounded and the person driving apparently was above suspicion. Besides this, the little touring car was moving along leisurely, indicating that the driver was in no hurry.

Guard Jeff Cranmer observed the automobile and the driver as it passed through the outskirts of the prison grounds, but he saw nothing unusual about it. He thought it was a state automobile, the driver of which was leaving after having transacted business at the institution.

Burk was a cripple, having a stiff right leg due to an accident to the knee.

Victim of Auto Hurlled From Speeding Car

Driver Zig Zags Machine. Shakes Off Man Hanging to Fender, Flees.

BERKELEY, Jan. 24.—With his victim clinging desperately to the fender of the machine, the unidentified driver of the automobile which struck Joseph Rames, 433 Washington street, Oakland, at San Pablo avenue and Gilman street, zig-zagged back and forth across the highway for more than a block last night trying to throw Rames off to the street. When he succeeded he speeded away.

The victim was found lying in the street in a dazed condition and was taken to the emergency hospital, where he was treated for severe cuts and bruises. A police search for the driver of the machine was unsuccessful. The accident occurred at about 11:30 o'clock.

Rames had just alighted from a street car on his way to the Steel Pipe and Tank Works where he is employed when he was struck by the automobile.

According to Rames' story to the police, he clung to the fender of the car. The driver, he asserts, swerved back and forth until he had dropped him and then sped away.

Rames was unable to give a description of the driver, declaring that all of the curtains of the car were up, and that he was struck by an American Greyhound Company truck at Dwight way and Grove street yesterday. Both Miss Thomas and Wood were treated at the Temple hospital.

"Oh, Say Can You See," Rings Out as "Old Glory" Is Lowered

(Copyright, 1923, by United Press.)

COBLENZ, Germany, Jan. 24.—"Oh, say can you see—" The strains of the National Anthem from the smartest of French military bands, blared out through the packed square at Ehrenbreitstein fortress, Coblenz, promptly at noon.

The Stars and Stripes on the tall flag pole fluttered an instant as two American machine gunners, honor men who had come through Chateau Thierry, pulled gently on the ropes.

A French and American military band stood rigidly at attention as the flag came down.

Crowds of Germans, many with wet eyes, pushed forward to witness the ceremony.

The huge flag sank slowly to the foot of the pole, where General Allen, commanding the last remnant of the American army of occupation, caught it in his arms and folded it.

The anthem came to an end with a crash of cymbals and a great blare of brass.

Our flag was no longer there.

The ceremony signified the formal departure of the last of America's "two millions" from the Rhine.

The last act of the Americans was to return the compliment of the French. The crack band of the Third Army's Rhine force smashed into a stirring Marseillaise.

Two blue-clad poilus marched to the flagpole with a huge French tri-color. Slowly, just as the American flag had come down, they raised it to the top. Exchange of military salutes. Final farewells. The Americans fell in and marched to their train.

High Tribute Paid Americans By Cuno and Ally Chiefs; Residents Sadly Amend "The Yanks Are Coming"

EHRENBREITSTEIN, Jan. 24.—(By The Associated Press.)—The American troops were withdrawn from the Rhine today, ending American military participation in the occupational area.

The withdrawal was signalled by the hauling down at noon of the stars and stripes from the castle of Ehrenbreitstein, the American military headquarters since the beginning of the occupation.

The flag came floating down from the staff on the castle walls, overlooking the Rhine as the signal was given for striking the colors. Not a shot was fired in salute, for it was not a martial occasion.

The British and Belgian high commissioners for the Rhineland remained away because they said they could not bear to witness the lowering of the flag that meant the breaking of so many close ties.

Inside the fort there was taken from the whitewashed walls the portrait of George Washington, the Americans had hung there on their arrival.

GERMANS SADLY AMEND "THE YANKS ARE COMING."

As the American forced turned their faces homeward, many a German sadly realized that the gay refrain "The Yanks are coming" must be amended to "The Yanks have gone and the French are here."

The dawning of the day that was to see the American garrison march down the steep slope of Ehrenbreitstein, across the Rhine into Coblenz and thence, in company with the other units of the Eighth infantry, to the Antwerp trains, found the Stars and Stripes hoisted to its accustomed place at reveille while doughboy sentries still mounted guard at the Sally port. Their packs were as ready as at any moment during the great war, but today the final "fall in," meant home—the place where, as many a private put it—a dollar is one hundred cents and not several thousand marks.

SIMPLE CEREMONIES MARK FLAG LOWERING.

It was a day of simple ceremony. Four sergeants, picked from among the veterans of the Seventh machine gun battalion, Third division, who fought at the last battle of the Marne, were accorded the honor of assisting Major General Henry T. Allen in lowering the colors at the last retreat this noon. These non-commissioned officers were Sergeants Dewey Kiltner, Lester Kelbaugh, Charles Long and Frank Ehley. Together with their comrades of Companies D and M, the veteran sergeants waited with full pack beside the flagpoles for the moment when the stars should flutter down the staff over ancient Ehrenbreitstein and the tri-color of France take its place. For the last

German Magnates Fined for Flouting Invaders

MAYENCE, Jan. 24.—(By The Associated Press.)—Fritz Thyssen and the five other German industrialists charged by the French with refusing to cooperate with the French plans for delivery of reparations coal from the Ruhr valley, were all found guilty by a court martial here today.

Thyssen was fined 5100 francs; Woffe, 224,300 francs; Spindler, 47,752 francs; Herry Kesten, 15,632 francs; Wuestenhofer, Essen mine association, 8410 francs, and Herr Tengelmann, Essen Anthracite Coal Company, 6020 francs.

Leniency had been suggested by the French prosecutor, who explained he was so inclined because of the patriotic motives of the Germans.

The prosecutor referred the court to the provision in the regulations of General DeGoutte for the imposition of a fine in case of refusal by the Germans to comply with orders.

Colonel Debeugnot, the ranking provost marshal of the French Rhine army, in opening court, cautioned the spectators to refrain from demonstrations.

The trial began immediately upon the arrival of Thyssen, Kesten, Wuestenhofer, Tengelmann, Woffe and Spindler.

When the defendants had stated their ages, their business, and answered other specifications, the charge was read and Dr. Grimm began his argument to establish the illegality of the arrests and the demand that the court declare itself incompetent, closing his argument on The Hague convention of 1893 and 1917, as well as the Rhineud convention.

Captain Bodin, the prosecutor, replied and the court, after consulting in private for fifteen minutes, declared its competency and ordered the trial to proceed.

Thyssen, under questioning, admitted having refused on January 18, at Bordeaux, to obey an order given by the occupation authorities for the delivery of coal.

"I am a German and my duty compels me to obey the orders of my country and to serve my country," he said. "The entry of troops into the Ruhr was not justified by anything. That is why I will remain faithful to my fatherland."

He said orders were given afterward to the mines to continue development but that the Berlin government telegraphed instructions forbidding delivery.

T. AND D. CIRCUIT SALE IS REPORTED

Sol Lesser and Friends Are Said to Have Closed Deal For $1,750,000.

Sol Lesser may take over the T. and D. circuit at the end of thirty days for a consideration of $1,750,000.

Theaters in eight central California cities are involved in a secret deal consummated behind closed doors in San Francisco last night when Lesser, according to report, was given a thirty-day option on the holdings of the Turner and Dahken interests.

Affiliated with Lesser in the deal are the Gore Brothers and Adolph Ramish, all of whom are prominent in the financial end of the picture world in Southern California, where Lesser has produced the "Jackie" Coogan pictures.

If the deal started last night is consummated at the end of the option period, Lesser then will have a big block of the First National stock, as the T. and D. circuit, of which Arthur Bowles is general manager, had the controlling interest in the parent company.

Lesser, the Gore brothers and Ramish now control fifty-eight theaters south of the Tehachapi and with their new holdings, will have houses in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Richmond, Sacramento, San Jose, Watsonville and Salinas.

Only T. and D. theaters in these cities will be affected by the deal as Lesser and his associates contracted for only the senior houses. The T. and D. circuit is also interested with Claude Langley in a Junior T. and D. circuit in the valley and Southern California.

Lesser left for Los Angeles last night directly after the meeting and would make no definite statement on the status of the amalgamation.

Today the officers and managers of the T. and D. company made general denials of the plans to sell.

"There are no negotiations on at the present time for the sale of the circuit," said Carsten Dahken Jr., of the T. and D. circuit. "There was no meeting last night."

The news of the amalgamation created considerable comment along the moving picture Rialto in San Francisco, following as it does on a series of changes in the star force of the First National. The Talmadge sisters, Buster Keaton, and recently "Jackie" Coogan left the fold.

RAMISH ADMITS DEAL IS CLOSED.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—(By Associated Press.)—The west coast theaters, of which Gore brothers, Adolph Ramish and Sol Lesser are the majority stockholders, have taken an option on the T. and D. chain of theaters in California, Ramish said today.

About twenty California are involved in the deal, according to Ramish, who said that it would be consummated within a few days.

COLBOURN BACKED AS CITY MANAGER

Oakland Commissioner Admits Berkeley Offer Would Be Considered.

Frank Colbourn, Oakland commissioner of public health and safety, will be a candidate for the newly-created position of city manager of Berkeley.

Supervisor Redmond Staats and several others have announced their determination to back Colbourn as the best man available for the job. Staats asserts he will back Colbourn's name as soon as the newly-elected Berkeley council meets.

Colbourn however, admitted this morning that he had not been consulted. As for his willingness to serve, he said:

"That's a question. I feel thoroughly at ease in Oakland and I am used to Oakland conditions. To enter some other city, with ramifications that are strange to me, seems like tackling an entirely new business."

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Austin Howard Montgomery, Sr., former opera singer, was released in $10,000 bail after he had pleaded not guilty in federal court to a charge of using the mails to defraud investors in the now bankrupt Community Finance Corporation, a concern having headquarters here and branches in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Wilmington, Del. He has sung with Patti and De Reszke.

His son, Austin Howard Montgomery, Jr., one of the others indicted, has fled; the court was told, with $650,000.

Seizures Have No Legal Value, Berlin Notes Say

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(By the Associated Press).—A note protesting against the French and Belgian attempt "to force with terrorizing measures German officials to render assistance in the execution of illegal measures aimed against their own country through expulsions of officials who refuse to co-operate with the forces of occupation in the Ruhr, was made public by the German embassy last night after it had been handed to the French, British and Belgian governments by the German representatives at Paris, London and Brussels.

The embassy also made public another note delivered to those governments and to Italy, defining the German position as to the ordinances issued by the inter-allied Rhineland commission covering the occupation which it contends "are in contradiction with the Rhineland convention" and "have no legal value and are not to be complied with by the local German officials."

INTIMIDATION CHARGED.

The note protesting against the expulsion from occupied territory of German officials who, complying with legitimate instructions from their government refuse to render assistance in the execution of ordinances issued contrary to treaties and to international law, declares such steps "obviously aim at intimidating the other officials." The expulsions, it says, "take place with utter disregard and brutality" with a time limit of only a few hours granted "in some cases," and members of the expelled officials' families included in the orders.

The note delivered to the four powers contains that in the occupied territory "German sovereignty is merely restricted by the Rhineland convention," and that "no measures on the part of the allies are admissible which exceed the stipulations of the said convention."

"These bounds," the note declares, "are transgressed by every one of the ordinances issued" by the inter-allied Rhineland commission January 13 and 19, covering the occupation, and it is declared as an "intentional insult" the "order given to German officials and authorities" to take an active part in executing the purposes of the occupying forces.

ORDINANCES HELD ILLEGAL.

The note contends that, in issuing the ordinances, the commission "has abandoned the legal basis on which it was founded."

"By violating in the gravest manner the administrative and financial sovereignty of Germany, and in particular of the German territories concerned," it states, "the Rhineland commission has put itself at the disposal of the military enterprise at present undertaken by the French and Belgian governments in defiance of international law and of the treaty of Versailles."

"Even in time of war it is entirely illegal to force the home authorities of the occupied territory to take part in the execution of measures aimed at their own government. Therefore, the German government and the governments of the various German states have pointed out to their officials that those ordinances which are in contradiction with the Rhineland convention have no legal value and are not to be complied with."

FRENCH CLAIMS DENIED.

The note denies there is justification for the claim of "necessity of attending to the needs of the army of occupation," as set forth in the ordinance concerning the distribution of coal, "which extends the competence of the newly inaugurated inter-allied coal commission in the occupied Rhineland territory."

"The German government," it says, "has never intended or stated it would refuse delivery of the coal necessary for the occupation forces. In reality, the notice issued merely aims, with a view of furthering the Ruhr enterprise, to render possible, under protection of military law, the activities in the occupied Rhineland territory of the organ established at Essen in violation of the treaty."

"The other ordinances, which do not even contain an attempt to justify their existence by stipulation"

U. S. ARMY ENDS FOUR-YEAR DUTY ON GERMAN SOIL

Old Glory Is Lowered At Coblentz and Immediately Replaced by French Flag.

Henry T. Allen received last evening a brief letter from Chancellor Cuno conveying the compliments of the German government on the occasion of the departure of the American forces in Germany and asserting that their conduct had been exemplary.

In reply to a letter from General Degoutte, Major General Allen said he would formally turn the American zone over to the French on January 27 or any day thereafter. "It is with deep regret," he wrote, "that I must bring to an end the delightful official relations which have always existed harmoniously between us and terminate the services the American troops commenced in the war and continued on the Rhine."

FRENCH VOICE REGRET AT U. S. DEPARTURE.

MAYENCE, Jan. 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Degoutte, the French commander, yesterday sent the following telegram to Major General Henry T. Allen, commander of the American forces in Germany:

"On the occasion of the departure of the American forces of occupation, at the moment when our American comrades of the Eighth Infantry are leaving Coblentz to return to their country, I wish to send them my most cordial greetings and best wishes for their prosperity and future careers. We shall cherish carefully and faithfully the memory of their loyal and fruitful collaboration."

First Business Man In Newman Buried

NEWMAN, Jan. 24.—Funeral services were held here this afternoon for Henry Meier Sr., credited by old residents as being the man to build the first business house in Newman. Meier died in a San Francisco hospital Sunday night at the age of 68.

When the movement from Hills Ferry to Newman took place in 1885 Meier was one of the leaders and was the first to enter into the business field. Ten children survive him, six of whom live in the bay district, two in Newman and two in Modesto.

Americans Send Food Cargoes to Ruhr Residents

ESSEN, Jan. 24.—(By The Associated Press.)—Although the United States has stood apart in the Franco-German controversy over the occupation of the Ruhr, residents of the United States are already sending liberal relief to the people here. The largest gift so far announced is 500 chests of foodstuffs from the Central Relief Committee at New York.

According to further reports, a resident of Chicago has donated 4,000,000 marks and a resident at Coblentz has contributed another large sum.

FRENCH, BELGIANS QUIT MUNICH AS BOYCOTT STARTS

MUNICH, Bavaria, Jan. 24 (By the Associated Press.)—In consequence of the threat made by the hotel employees here that they would immediately quit their jobs if any Belgian or French national remained in the hotels, the French and Belgian members of the allied control commission have been forced to leave. They have gone to Mayence and it is reported that they were accompanied by the French minister to Munich. During the day crowds made a demonstration outside the hotel where the mission was quartered.

Some French tourists were expelled from various hotels in the city after they had vainly attempted to obtain service in the restaurants. They also were obliged to leave Munich.

The Bavarian government notified Chancellor Cuno early in the day that it must decline all responsibility for the safety of the French and Belgians in view of the hostility displayed by the hotel employees and the public.

Berlin Note Rolls Paris Government

BERLIN, Jan. 24 (By the Associated Press.)—Replying to the German protest over the shooting of Franz Kowalski, a hospital attendant at Langendree, in the Ruhr district by a French sentry last Friday, the French foreign office declares, in a communication received today, that "it is impossible for the French government to receive a note couched in such terms."

TURKISH TROOPS MASS FOR WAR ALONG STRAITS

Curzon and Ismet Pasha Are Hopelessly Deadlocked
At Peace Parley.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Jan. 24.—(By International News Service.)—Seven Christians, charged with assisting the Greek army during Greek occupation of western Anatolia, have been hanged at Smyrna, said a despatch from that city today. The Greek patriarch is protesting to the allies.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE. LONDON, Jan. 24.—The Turks have begun to mobilize at Constantinople, according to semi-official reports received here today. Turkish military preparations for renewal of war, which have been under way for some time, are said to have been hastened by the new crisis in the Near East peace conference at Lausanne.

LAUSANNE, Jan. 24.—Unsettled as is the general European situation, it suddenly took a more menacing turn yesterday owing to critical developments in the Near East conference. Turkey refused to accept the British proposal to refer the Mosul dispute to the League of Nations for settlement, and Great Britain declined to accede to Turkish counter-suggestions that the question be settled by a plebiscite in the contested district.

Lord Curzon then declared that as foreign secretary of the British empire, he would take the responsibility of addressing a letter to the council of the League of Nations setting forth that a situation had arisen which was liable to disturb international peace and asking that the matter be dealt with under the covenant, which provides that the league can act when there is war or a threat of war in the world and take steps to restore or to insure the maintenance of peace.

CHILD OUTLINES AMERICAN ATTITUDE.

An important American feature of last night's dramatic meeting was a statement read by Ambassador Child, outlining the position of the United States.

Child said that Lord Curzon had clearly indicated that the British government would hold aloof as far as possible from making concessions in Mesopotamia, otherwise called Iraq, the subject of diplomatic interest.

The American representatives were glad to associate themselves with the intent of Lord Curzon's remarks on their government's policy, but neither the statement nor adherence had reference to any particular resource or field of economic activity.

Ambassador Child continued: "The American representatives feel their duty to refer to Lord Curzon's specific mention of the validity of the claims of the Turkish petroleum company and to remind the conference that, without seeking special privilege or favor, the government of the United States has not assented to the principle that it may be dissociated from the rights of peace from the usual consequences of association in war, nor in other cases, where another principle is involved, will it abandon its policy of the open door."

CURZAN PLEA TO GO TO LEAGUE. The British spokesman said last night that Lord Curzon would undoubtedly send his communication in time for its consideration at the next meeting of the council of the league in Paris, which is set for January 29.

The British added that the latest developments seemed to them distinctly unfavorable for the success of the Lausanne conference. The conference, however, will continue its labors and the Turks will later be presented with the draft treaty, in which, according to the British, there will be a clause providing that the Mosul question be submitted to the league. Unless the Turks change their mind this will be sufficient for them to refuse to sign the treaty. Then, as Lord Curzon said last night, there may be a renewal of war in the Near East.

The Turk asserted that the British could never go before the world as breaking up the Near Eastern conference over the question of oil, for then the world would deem oil to be the real cause of the war.

CURZON DISCLAIMS GREEK FOR OIL. Lord Curzon himself at yesterday's meeting rebuked those who thought that England was interested in Mosul because of its alleged oil richness. He declared that Great Britain had solemnly pledged her word to the Arabs of Iraq on the southern frontier of Turkey, that they would not be returned to the Turkish yoke, and Great Britain meant to keep her word.

He admitted that an English company possessed oil concessions at Mosul. He attacked the Turkish delegation for sending representatives to London recently and offering Mosul oil concessions to British syndicates, thus endeavoring to influence the British government. In his arguments Ismet Pasha contended Mosul was an essential part of the Turkish fatherland and no such question could be referred to arbitration.

DISAGREE OVER PLEBISCITE PLAN. Lord Curzon was opposed to a plebiscite, because it had never worked. He recalled that in spite of the presence of 30,000 troops in Upper Silesia an attempt to hold a plebiscite was the cause of assassinations and battles. "There may be war," he said impressively, "I am here to make peace, not war, and therefore I am not here to allow conditions to exist which may result in war."

Justice to All Has Been Motto, Allen Declares

COBLENZ, Jan. 23.—(By The Associated Press.)—Major General Henry T. Allen, commander of the American forces in Germany, in a farewell bulletin to his men, said:

"For four years forces of the American army have held a place on the Rhine beside their allies and have earnestly striven toward restoring peace under the terms adopted in the treaties. With deep affection in our hearts for our allies and sympathy for our former foes, our highest ambition has been to act with justice toward all as to insure the lasting peace of Europe. . . . There has been a consistent effort on our part to execute the important task with the maximum of effectiveness and a minimum of hardship to the population."

My instructions to the command with regard to their correct personal conduct and considerate attitude toward the local population have been rewarded. The correctness of your conduct, in the general high standards of military efficiency set by the various organizations has made it possible to leave behind an enviable record for justice, fairness and military excellence.

I am confident this spirit of justice and fairness is applauded by our allies and will in days to come prevent any feeling of bitterness or rancor toward us in the minds of those among whom we have lived and will mark a forward step in the execution of genuine peace.

WIFE OCCUPIES CHURCH PULPIT IN EMERGENCY

PATTERSON, Jan. 24.—Rev. Henry James, pastor of the M. E. church, was ill and unable to conduct services Sunday, but his wife was not left unoccupied. For Mrs. James, herself an ordained minister, met the emergency with charming grace. In the morning she spoke on "Atonement," delivering a ringing sermon. A service of the choir occupied the hour usually given to services.

Bee Expert Talks on Buckeye Poisoning

NAPA, Jan. 25.—About 25 bee men of Napa county attended the meeting of the Bee Men's association, department of the Napa County Farm Bureau, at the court house Saturday.

Dr. Van Sell of the University of California, delivered a discourse on buckeye poisoning, telling how to treat the disease. The Bee men volunteered to carry out experiments in combating the disease, as there is no money available with which to secure the services of a man to do this work at present. Arrangements were completed whereby bee keepers can send their wax to the Diamond Match company to have foundations made.

Prisoner Escapes From Constable

MARTINEZ, Jan. 24.—Taken into custody at a dance at Pacheco, S. Harvey Jr. escaped from the automobile of Constable John Ott when they reached the county jail here. Harvey has not been located. Ott claimed that Harvey had liquor in his possession. Harvey recently was released from the county jail after serving a thirty days' sentence for battery.

Suit Started to Oust Delhi Land Settlers

MERCED, Jan. 24.—The lawsuit started here this week by the state land settlement division against Fred Worthington is marked as a rare case of a suit for ejectment of a settler on the Delhi state colony lands, and further by being invited by the defendant, who failed to agree with the department on assignment of his equity to a successor. The case will be tried in court to determine the equity involved in a land settlement agreement.

that Turkey would be responsible for what might happen. M. Boman, Capt. G. Garmon and Baron Hayashi, representing France, Italy and Japan respectively, earnestly supported the British plea for arbitration.

The conference adjourned late last night in considerable confusion and without definite plans for the future.

HOUSEHOLDER FINDS BURGLAR AT HIS WORK

a window at 5309 Shafter avenue was surprised while at work when George Higuera, the occupant, walked out into the yard to see who was making the noise. The police searched the neighborhood, but could not find any trace of the intruder.

Woman Arrested On Bad Check Charge
SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Mrs. Borina Bennett, 23, who told the police that she came here from Santa Barbara, is in the city jail facing charges of having passed five worthless checks on local merchants. Her operations are said to have realized $1000. She was registered at the Palace Hotel.

BRIDE-TO-BE IS HURT BY AUTO

LODI, Jan. 24.—An auto accident interfered with the wedding arrangements of Miss Sylvia Ferretti and David Perrin, with the result that the ceremony, originally announced for today, has been postponed until the bride-to-be recovers from her injuries. She was struck down at the corner of Locust and Shurich streets by a car driven by the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hayton. The ing, in all probability, a more serious accident. Mrs. Leo Perrin, accompanying Miss Ferretti, was only slightly injured. Miss Ferretti sustained a broken nose and other injuries. She is at the home of her parents at 217 West Locust street. The injured woman says Miss Dayton seemed to lose control of the car as it swung around the corner.

EASTBAY FARMERS NEED SUNSHINE

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 24.—Agriculturists of this city and surrounding district have had enough rain—for awhile, at least. Two or three weeks of clear weather, they mention, will enable the final planting of the early vegetable crops, now being delayed because of the continued downpour.

First plantings of peas, spinach and other such products, it was stated, have been completed and are now growing in a satisfactory manner, but the remainder of the crop, more than half in each instance, probably will be delayed for a considerable time. With the final plantings completed, a steady continuance of rain would prove an inestimable benefit to the year's crop.

School Attendance Shows Gain of 40

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 24.—A fall semester registration of 1350 in the three San Leandro grammar schools is reported by W. C. Davies, supervising principal. That total, said Davies, shows an increase of approximately 40 pupils. Three schools here, Lincoln, McKinley and Washington, are filled to capacity. The one means of relieving the congestion Davies said: will be the establishment of a junior high school, expected to be effected this year. Construction of three portable buildings housing classes have been arranged for the Lincoln and Washington schools, aiding matters somewhat.

WIFE OF ARTIST MESHED IN LOVE TRIANGLE DIES

Mrs. Nellie Kendrick, Who Sued Mrs. Wakefield For $30,000, Passes Away.

Mrs. Nellie Kendrick, who recently brought suit for $30,000 in Alameda county courts against Mrs. Edith Spreckels Wakefield on a charge of alienating the affections of her husband, Rodney Kendrick, a newspaper artist, died yesterday at her apartment at 505 Eighteenth street. Her death was due to Bright's disease.

Mrs. Kendrick had been ill for many months, and was undergoing a cure for consumption, which, according to physicians, was being accomplished. Yesterday morning she appeared to be feeling better than she had for a long time, and Saturday she had with her 17-month-old baby, who is being kept by friends in Berkeley. Her visit seemed to cheer and strengthen her.

Late yesterday, when she complained of feeling worse, she was visited by her physician, Dr. C. H. Walker. A few moments later she suffered a heart attack and failed to rally.

In her legal attack last August on the "love bargain" romance of her husband and Mrs. Wakefield, Mrs. Kendrick not only asked damages from the woman but also for an absolute divorce, with alimony, from Kendrick. In her complaint she declared that Mrs. Wakefield had offered her $100 a month to induce her to divorce Kendrick, and told of the confession made to her by Mrs. Wakefield that her husband that they loved each other.

The complaint upon which Mrs. Kendrick sought divorce was a romantic camping trip in the Sierra Nevada taken by her husband and Mrs. Wakefield, and other occurrences in the Sausalito home of the latter, where Kendrick and his wife were guests, and where, according to the complaint, Mrs. Wakefield attempted to bring the "love bargain."

Later Mrs. Kendrick brought suit to force her husband to care for their infant daughter, and Kendrick was ordered to go to jail for alleged failure to pay temporary alimony for support of his wife and baby. He was released on a writ of habeas corpus and the court rendered its decision on releasing him that a parent is free from criminal liability for the support of his child if the other parent has means for such support.

Mrs. Kendrick was born in Atlantic City, N. J. She was 25 years old.

At a recent meeting the county supervisors expressed themselves as being favorable to such a move. A conference will be arranged for discussion and possible action and a delegation from this city is being arranged for.

HEALDSBURG, Jan. 24.—The final legal step in the fight phase of the street paving program here was completed this week when the board of trustees adopted a resolution accepting the city engineer's adjusted assessment list and diagrams and declaring the paving to be done according to specification. The work cost approximately $212,000.

While objections to the cost of the first improvements are circulating recall petitions aimed at the incumbent trustees, the Clark and Henry Construction company is getting ready to begin work on a second contract calling for the paving of approximately 26 blocks.

ALASKAN MAIL CARRIER ROBBED AT ROAD HOUSE

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 24.—In the first mail robbery that, according to old-timers, has occurred in Alaska since the stampede of the '90s, $30,000 in currency was stolen, January 7 from Carrier Duffy, relates a report received here yesterday. The robbery is believed to have occurred at Shermers' roadhouse. The money was intended for Tom Allen, at the Candle creek dredge, near Tacoma.

A woman traveling with the mail carrier said, according to the message, that she was robbed of $700 at the roadhouse. It was stated that marshals and postoffice inspectors were surrounding the district and that they declared they had a clew to the robbers.

GEORGE FRIEND WILL PLAY IN "DEAR BRUTUS"

Old-Time Ye Liberty Actor to Have Role in Berkeley Playhouse Comedy.

BERKELEY, Jan. 24.—After 11 years devoted to his career as a Berkeley reality broker, George Friend, at one time one of the most popular members of the old Ye Liberty stock company in Oakland, will make his reappearance on the stage.

Living Pichel, director of "The Playhouse," announced that Friend, who is now in James M. Barry's comedy, "Dear Brutus," which will be staged next week as the second production of the season, at the Berkeley Theater.

The Barry comedy will come in direct contrast to the comic and highly dramatic Masell play, "The Faithful," which marked the opening of "The Playhouse" last week. Pichel houses greeted the four performances of "The Faithful" and the private announcement of Friend's consent to play the leading role in the Barry comedy has resulted in a rush for seats for the opening night next Wednesday.

George Friend, who is numbered among Berkeley's leading business men and civic workers, is remembered by patrons of the old Ye Liberty Theater as a jovial, lovable, fun-provoking character. Many times during the eleven years since he left the stage Friend has refused offers from theatrical companies, both professional and amateur. Until the advent of "The

Autos Crowd Out Stanford's Last Horse-Drawn Bus

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Jan. 24.—The horse-drawn vehicle has at last vanished from this section of the country. For thirty-one years it has struggled against the inroads of the automobile and now Jasper W. Paulsen, the last of the old guard and sole remaining owner of Palo Alto's last livery stable, has gone out of business.

Paulsen was the first liveryman in the college town and was the last to give up his share in a business which played a prominent part in Stanford's early history. Frequent reference to him is found in the undergraduate literature of years ago.

It was during the period in which the Stanford's forbade the entrance of automobiles to the campus that liverymen flourished in Palo Alto, and it was during this time that Paulsen established a horse-drawn bus line that was opposed by students in every way. But when the automobile was permitted, the students wanted the bus returned to favor and the service continued for several years. Paulsen, determined to "stay with the ship," has moved to Mayfield, where he has started in his old business once again.

"Playhouse" he consistently refused all. In accepting the role in the Barry play, Friend says: "I could not resist playing the captivating part offered me in 'Dear Brutus.' I am one of the sponsors of 'The Playhouse' and I like every other Berkeley citizen, wish to see our theater grow. I will play as often as director Pichel will permit me. I want to see 'The Playhouse' continue the success promised by the first production."

The second performance of "Alice in Wonderland," the first children's play of the new theater, is announced for 10 o'clock Saturday morning. There will be other performances at 2 o'clock Saturday, February 3, and at 2 p. m. February 10.

GRIST OF LIQUOR WILL BE $10,000 IN 2 DAYS' WORK

Oakland Place and Four in
Abatement Suits.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—Sentencing of keepers of illicit liquor "joints" still keeps the Federal courts busy and 34 were fined yesterday by Judge Van Fleet. The total amount of the fines was $5550, which brings the monetary return for two days' work in the Federal court to $19,000. Nearly two hundred alleged violators are still awaiting trial.

Meanwhile abatement suits have been instituted against eight alleged bootlegging joints, one in Oakland, four in Emeryville, and three in San Francisco. The Oakland suit is against Edmund and Leone C. Volk, owners of 764 Lydia street, where Marion Doe resides.

In Emeryville, the places are listed as: 5539 San Pablo avenue, Davis & Zowle, operators; F. W. Frost, property owner; 4038 San Pablo avenue, John Blackley, operator; Mary J. Mayberry, property owner; 1358 Park avenue, Albert W. White and J. F. Jennings, operators and property owners; 1249 Park avenue, Bowman & Fields, operators; Mary C. Magnuson, property owner.

ABATEMENTS IN S. F.—The San Francisco address hoped to be closed by the Federal officers, Old Ship Saloon, 263 Pacific street, Hans Alshemer, operator; Marion S. Johnson, property owner; Bakers Exchange Saloon, 829 Clay street, William Russell, operator; Adolph and Rosa Zinkel, property owners; 248 Eddy street, Fred Frank and Emery B. Pollard, operators; Alexander Vassile and Paul C. and Casimir Cerviere, property owners.

In Oakland a place at 764 Lydia street is named with Marion Doe, operator, Edmund and Leone C. Volk, property owners.

The hearings brought forth the customary lights and shades of emotion. Jack O'Donovan, arrested after 250 cases of beer had been seized at his home, 2438 Fifteenth street, San Francisco, "forgot" the name of his employer and must spend the next seven months in jail because he couldn't pay the fine of $50.

James McCann, proprietor of a resort at 61 Embarcadero, obtained the release of his brother, Patrick, by proving the latter to be an "innocent bystander." McCann was fined $200.

"BLACK HAND" BLAMED.—Mrs. Louis G. Tociara, 1830 Kearny street, blamed her arrest on the "Black Hand," whom she accused of "kidding" her off to the police. She was fined $300.

Benjamin Brignone, hotel proprietor of Point Richmond, was accused to know that 225 gallons of grape juice he had in his cellar had turned into wine. It cost him $250 for the information.

Dorothy Collins, pretty and in her twenties, was fined $300 for having enough illicit liquor in her apartment at 225 Hyde street to do justice to a pre-Volstead saloon. At the conclusion of the session, Judge Van Fleet issued a warning to all bootleggers to submit to arrest without resistance or to expect severe sentences in court.

LIVINGSTONE'S BAND comes to the State theater to present musical novelties. Each member is a jazz soloist.

Organization Headed by Joseph Livingstone to Appear at State.

Heralding a new musical policy at the State theater, the management will on Sunday introduce the Livingstone Symphonic band to the theater public of the East Bay. The innovation will be under the direction of Joseph Livingstone. He heads an organization of symphonic-jazz soloists who will appear at every performance as an added attraction to the usual show. It is planned by the management to establish the band permanently at the State to offer new concert each week. Musical novelties and unique stage effects are promised. Each member of the band is a soloist of the first rank and many solo numbers in addition to the orchestra ensemble are to be presented.

COAST GUARDS TESTS ARRANGED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—The Coast Guard Service will hold competitive examinations for appointments as cadets in April. While the examinations are yearly, the opportunity this year will be particularly favorable as a large number of vacancies are to be filled.

Cadets are given a three year training at the Coast Guard Academy, at New London, Conn., in preparation for appointment as commissioned officers in the service. They start in their seafaring experiences the first summer of their training on an extended cruise on a training ship of the old school of "sails." Active service offered is both afloat and ashore.

Cadet engineers are trained to become engineers in the service and are graduated from the one year's course at the Academy with the commissioned rank of ensign. Graduates of the Coast Guard rank with officers of the Army, Navy and Marine Corps and their pay and allowances correspond. While cadets they receive the same pay as cadets at Annapolis.

The competitive examinations are open to high school graduates or those who have had the equivalent to the high school courses, are exempted from the examinations in all but three subjects: others take the full examinations, and appointments to the Coast Guard Academy are made on the basis of standing in these examinations. The age limits for appointments as cadets are 18 and 24 years; for cadet engineers, 20 and 25 years. A high school graduate, Cadet Engineer, is a child with little trouble in passing the examinations. Graduates of engineering schools are exempt from examination on other than general subjects.

Examinations will be held April 15, at Boston, New London, New York, Philadelphia, Washington, Norfolk, Savannah, Key West, Mobile, Galveston, Buffalo, Detroit, Chicago, Port Stanton, San Francisco and Seattle.

ONE MORE DAY OF RAIN, CLOUD OR HAIL, THIS WEATHER BUREAU

State Visited by Heaviest Fall of Season; Much Snow in Mountains.

The heaviest rain storm of the season is still sweeping over California and the bay region today, after, having been in progress almost uninterruptedly for the past forty-eight hours, and, according to local forecasts, will continue at least until tomorrow night.

The fall of snow and rain which has already been recorded in the state this season, has not been equalled for a similar period in almost thirty years, according to weather bureau officials.

The weather report today told not only of 39 inches of new snow at Summit, Placer county, measuring station, but also of two inches on the top of Mount Hamilton, near San Jose, and other peaks of the Coast Range, which overlooks the Pacific.

The Sierra fall brought the snow pack to over 100 inches, or approximately nine feet. Snow was still falling heavily in the Sierras today.

The storm is gradually working its way southward, and although rain will continue in the bay region today, the heaviest precipitation will occur south of the Tehachapi, it is predicted.

The wind which at first accompanied the downpour has subsided, and the storm warnings have been taken down at shipping headquarters along the coast. During the windstorm, which reached its height Monday night, a velocity of forty-eight miles an hour was recorded at Eureka and Point Reyes. Local weather forecasts indicate moderate southwesterly winds for today and tomorrow.

RAIN TO MEXICO LINE

The rain was particularly welcome to residents of the Lower San Joaquin Valley and those living in extreme Southern California, where the moisture has not been anywhere near as plentiful this year as in other parts of the state. The rain extended as far as San Diego, which received more than a third of an inch.

While a portion of the storm has moved eastward the main disturbance is central off the California coast. Another beneficial feature of the storm was a heavy snowfall in the mountains. Thirty-nine inches of snow fell at Summit during the past 24 hours.

Rain in the principal California stations during the 24 hour period is reported as follows: San Luis Obispo, 36; San Jose, 78; Oroville, 69; San Francisco, 63; Point Reyes, 49; Stockton, 52; Paso Robles, 41; Santa Rosa, 36; San Diego, 34; Sacramento, 32; Fresno, 22.

STORMS COVER BIG AREA.—WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—(By International News Service.)—The entire southeastern section of the country was swept this morning by heavy rain and sleet which will continue unabated until late tonight. The weather bureau said today. The center of the storm is over the eastern part of North Carolina.

With the exception of the midwest and the southern Rocky mountain region, the entire country was storm swept today, following in the path of either heavy falls of snow or rain and sleet. The portions untouched by the storms were in the grip of an intense cold wave, below zero weather prevailing in the Dakotas.

HEAVY SNOW IN SIERRA.—SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Heavy snow throughout the Sierra mountains was reported here today by N. R. Taylor, in charge of the federal weather bureau. More than 100 inches have fallen at the summit. Taylor said a total of 1.04 inches of rain has fallen since the present storm began.

QUINCY, Cal., Jan. 24.—Snow, which has been falling since early Monday, has virtually blocked all roads to automobile traffic here today. In the valleys it is estimated the fall has been two feet, while upon high levels the fall has been recorded from five to seven feet deep.

It is understood several motion picture companies have already left for points in the Feather river canyon where they will film snow scenes.

Bald Eagle Escapes;

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 24.—A large bald eagle, with a wing spread of nearly eight feet and weighing 60 pounds, today broke through the glass of the top of a cage in Riverview Park and escaped after attacking a herd of deer also in the park. The bird was captured eighteen months ago near Golden, Colo., and donated to the zoo.

The secret of happiness is to set a limit to your wants and keep them there.

U. S. FLAG LEADS IN HEALTH DRIVE, SAYS RABBI HERE

Scientific work in preventing the spread of disease is one of the greatest forms of patriotism, Rabbi Rudolph I. Coffee told members of the Scouts at their luncheon yesterday. Rabbi Coffee was the principal speaker.

"My plea to you is to have the flag do more of the wonderful service of health," he said. "There is too much preventable sickness. One kind of disease lurks all over Europe. It is that caused by poverty and anarchy, which will grow worse if the American flag ceases to interest itself in Europe."

"I would have the flag carry blessing the world over. Twenty years ago today Panama was a plague zone which had defied the French efforts to build the canal. Before we began to dig the dirt, an army of sanitary engineers, under the guidance of the blessed sword of Dr. Osier about chloroforming a man at 50. We have only then commenced to live."

"But good health demands certain aims. In Oakland it insists of health to neighbors and friends. effect to trace the history of asbestos to ancient Egypt. John E. Meek, manufacturer, planned to sail today for the tomb of Tutankhamen at Luxor. "It has been found," Mr. Meek said, "that the bodies of kings were wrapped in mantles of asbestos to keep their ashes separated from the rest of the funeral pyre and, in some instances, asbestos shrouds were used in the center of the pyre to protect the dead from the possible fires of the hereafter."

NO BLAME IN BUS WRECK

SANTA BARBARA, Jan. 24.—A coroner's jury at Ventura yesterday pronounced the driver of a school bus from blame in connection with the death of Frances Jones, 15-year-old school child, killed when the machine turned over there yesterday morning.

A mechanical defect in the bus was declared the cause of the accident, in which eight other children were slightly injured.

ing China to fight the dread diseases there.

"No agency like the American flag has been so helpful to spread the Bible doctrine of health. Moses taught that cleanliness was equal to godliness. In our day we have abolished the idea of sickness being equivalent to saintliness. Why, we laugh out of court the recent word of Dr. Osier about chloroforming a man at 50. We have only then commenced to live."

AD. CLUB IS HOST AT LUNCHEON TO NOTED MUSICIANS

Concert Manager Decries Lack of Support to Concerts, Praises Theater.

Yesterday was "music day" for members of the Oakland Advertising Club.

At their luncheon at the Hotel Oakland members of the organization were hosts to Miss Zanette Potter, Oakland concert manager, and four musicians who have won fame throughout the country in concert and in opera. Following an address by Miss Potter, during which the manager pointed out her aims to bring the best talent and musical attractions to this city, the artists entertained the club members and their guests with a program repeatedly applauded.

The musician guests at the luncheon included Carol Weston, violinist, and Phyllida Ashley, pianist, co-directors of the orchestra of the American Theater, and Stella Jellicoe, coloratura soprano, and Edith Welling.

THEATER PRAISED.
Miss Potter, under whose direction the program was arranged, called attention to the fact that Oakland is the home of Mrs. Jellicoe, Miss Ashley and Miss Weston, and that the city has reason to be proud of the reputations they have won on the concert platform. She told of the efforts she has made to provide first-class musical attractions and concerts for Oakland music lovers, but expressed regret that these events which she books for the municipal auditorium are not as well patronized by Oaklanders as they should be.

Miss Potter outlined Oakland's possibilities to become a music center. The Auditorium theater, she declared, is the best for concert purposes west of Chicago, and with the exception of one theater in the Windy City, which is an equal of the local auditorium, it is the best west of Baltimore.

The acoustics of this theater, she said, make it possible to hear music from every seat. She suggested, however, several improvements for the local theater. A sound-proof curtain, she said, was needed to prevent noise in the auditorium arena from being overheard while concerts and musical programs were being presented in the theater, and said that with the hanging of a few drapes, which would improve sound conditions, the arena of the auditorium would make one of the best places for the staging of concerts in the world.

MUSICAL PROGRAM.
After Miss Potter's address Miss Weston with Miss Ashley played the "Ave Maria," by Schubert; "Gypsy Airs," by Sarasate, and "Reveries," composed by Miss Ashley. Miss Ashley, like Miss Weston, is an Oakland girl. She studied in the east and is known for her concert work and her compositions. She played the "Blue Danube" waltz by Strauss, and "Fireflies," a French composition, as an encore.

Mrs. Jellicoe sang "O Mio Bambino Caro," by Puccini, and an encore. She was accompanied by Miss Welling, who has come to Oakland recently from New York. Mrs. Jellicoe received her early training in Oakland and has sung in grand opera.

Quick Quaker Oats

Cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes

The Quick Style

The quickest-cooking oats in the world

Now your grocer has Quick Quaker Oats, as well as the regular Quaker.

The Quick cooks in a hurry. It cooks to perfection in 3 to 5 minutes.

It is the quickest-cooking oats in the world.

Thin flakes, partly cooked

In flavor and quality the two styles are identical. Both are flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats.

We get but ten pounds of Quaker Oats from a bushel. And that super-flavor has made this brand the leading oat dish the world over.

But in Quick Quaker the oats are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked.

So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small, thin flakes cook quickly.

Now Quaker Oats offers you two great advantages. It offers you flavor which no other oats can match. And it offers, if you wish, the only oats that cook in from 3 to 5 minutes.

For one or both of these reasons you want Quaker Oats. Be sure that you get it, and get the style you want.

Regular Quaker Oats

Come in package at left—the style you have always known.

Quick Quaker Oats

Come in package at right, with the "Quick" label.

Your grocer has both. Be sure to get the style you want.

Decision Clears Real Estate Man

Judgment in favor of F. E. Porter, realty broker, in the suit brought against him by Mrs. Alice Tully, was rendered today by Supreme Judge James G. Quinn. The judgment is in the nature of a complete exoneration for Porter of all charges made by Mrs. Tully in her suit that the real estate dealer had defrauded her out of large sums of money. Judge Quinn held that Mrs.
Tully was not entitled to the sum of $30,000.

In the action which she brought against Porter, Mrs. Tully charged that she had given him $20,000 to invest for her and had given him control over her property, including several ranches. He then rendered an accounting showing that she was entitled to him in the sum of $30,740, whereas he in reality was entitled to her in the sum of $30,000. She charged. She alleged that this accounting rendered was false and fraudulent.

Judge Quinn heard the evidence several weeks ago and took the case under advisement. Today's judgment is in favor of Porter.

MAY ROBSON IN UNUSUAL ROLE SCORES TRIUMPH

"Mother's Millions," Melodramatic, Trite, Made Enjoyable.

By WOOD SOANES.
May Robson, that Ben Hur of character comedies, returned to Oakland and the Auditorium theater last night, scored her usual triumph in her usual way, and the theatergoers who packed the opera house strolled out as usual pronouncing "Mother's Millions" the best vehicle the untouchable, wholesome, motherly sort of star has ever had.

Some day Miss Robson may elect to fool her faithful, if extensive, clientele and appear in some role unworthy of her talents, and then what consternation will be in evidence. Up to the present she has shown no signs of weakening and can always be looked to for something jolly in the way of a characterization and something hearty in the way of a play.

Without Miss Robson, "Mother's Millions" would be rather a sad affair. It is a homely little tale, seemingly modeled along a popular idea of Hettie Green and advancing Howard McKent Barnes' thoughts of how an individual of that type would be in dramatic life. It is melodramatic to a fault, trite and tedious, but it is entertaining and amusing.

DOMINATES IN PLAY.
Which again brings back the thoughts to Miss Robson and her conception of Harriet Breen. As the play character forced her way to the front, did exactly what she wanted to do, matched her wits against the financial brains of the country, arranged the love affairs of her son and daughter, in fact, was sort of omnipresent and omniscient, so was Miss Robson, the actress.

She dominated every scene, every situation, every spoken line, and when she was not on the stage the audience had her in mind more than the actors whose chief business was to set the stage for her next entrance. The first-nichers were not greatly interested in the play as a play any more than they were interested in the supporting company. It was Miss Robson they came to see, and had she been playing "East Lynne," they would have come just the same and liked it just as well.

Harriet Breen turned down a suitor in her youth and married his rival. The latter swore vengeance and sought to wreck it through the world of finance. He fought to death Harriet's husband, and then found that she had been the brains of the partnership and would have to continue his battle of wits against her.

BASIS OF CHARACTER.
When the play starts she is seen as a hardened woman of finance, "the richest woman in the world," misunderstood and maligned by all but a very select few. She has well earned the sobriquet of catamaran, if her public life can be called as a criterion. Even her own family is inclined to the belief that she has long since sacrificed love for money.

Of course, this is far from the case. Harriet Breen believes that the greatest charity is not in dispensing aims but in providing work for those who need it. Better to keep railroads running, to keep factories open, to keep banks solvent than to gain publicity by donations is the secret belief of Mrs. Breen.

So the story is told and in the end she triumphs not only over her financial enemy by breaking him but by finding her own reward for secret love by learning that her children not only love and respect her but are willing and ready to fight for her. It is a great triumph and all of her friends in the audience shared it with her.

As to the players, Walter Ayres, as the hated Remington, gives the finest performance. His villain is a sturdy fighter and Ayres' technique was evident in every move, in every intonation. The others serve to keep unwinding the story's thread from the author's spool. "Mother's Millions" is well worth paying for and listening to because of Miss Robson's "Mother." Only that and nothing more, but that is quite sufficient.

Newman Club of U.C. To Entertain Feb. 2

A social event which is creating much interest in university circles is the "formal" to be given by the Newman club of the University of California, at the Hotel Oakland, on the evening of February 2.

The club is to be assisted by the Alumni Council in entertaining its friends and members on that evening. Miliken's orchestra will add to the enjoyment of the affair.

Among the patrons and patronesses are President and Mrs. David Mrs. Benjamin Ide Wheeler, Professor and Mrs. Herbert E. Bolton and Professor and Mrs. T. M. Putman.

Guard Against "Flu" With Musterole

Influenza, Grippe and Pneumonia usually start with a cold. The moment you get those warning aches, get busy with good old Musterole.

Musterole is a counter-irritant that relieves congestion (which is what a cold really is) and stimulates circulation.

It has all the good qualities of the old-fashioned mustard plaster without the blister.

Just rub it on with your fingertips. First you will feel a warm tingle as the healing ointment penetrates the pores, then a soothing, cooling sensation and quick relief.

Have Musterole handy for emergency use. It may prevent serious illness.

CURTAIN CALLS

By WOOD SOANES

THE Guitrys, Lucien and Sacha, are sharing another artistic triumph in Paris, according to reports from the Parisian capital.

In the eyes of Paris and, as a matter of fact, in the eyes of the rest of the world, Lucien Guityr is looked upon as one of the foremost actors on the stage today, and his son, Sacha, enjoys a similar reputation in the playwriting world.

The younger Guityr's last effort laid bare to the theater-going world the soul of an actor. Now he has taken the soul of a man of letters and under the title "Un Sujet de Roman," now at the Theater Edouard Sept, this newest drama is being acclaimed as one of the best of the Guityr cycle.

TWENTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

"Michael Strogoff" is being presented at the California theater, with Gus Leverick in the title role.

In "Un Sujet de Roman," Guityr writes of a great author who lives in an ivory tower. He is admired and venerated by lovers of literature, but is almost unknown to the wider public. This fact his empty-headed wife cannot bear. In her eyes success consists in producing a best seller and earning official honors as well as financial return.

How this designing woman attempts to ruin the literary career of the author and how he ultimately wins both fame and fortune through the publication of his masterpiece forms the plot of the play, which is being admirably acted by the elder Guityr, according to reports.

Two Guityr plays are being prepared for presentation here, by the way. One is "The Comedian," in which Belasco will present Lionel Atwill; the other is "Pasteur," in which Henry Miller will present himself in the title role.

John Barrymore's action in announcing that he intends to throw up the role of "Hamlet" on February 9, when he will have broken the Booth record for continuous performances by one, is not meeting with popular approval among actors and actresses. John is being accused of the rankest sort of selfishness, and the accusation has some merit when the case is considered.

The view-point of the actor is given by Miss Katherine Van Buren, now leading woman at the Fulton theater, who was one of the victims of the Barrymore temper tantrum during the run of "Peter Ibbotson." She presents the actors' side in a forceful manner.

John Is Censured For Withdrawal

FORTY SEASONS AGO TODAY

The Orpheum road show has been secured by Manager Guy Smith for the Macdonough theater, giving guests McIntyre & Heath in "The Man From Montana," Mignonne Kokin, Nat Willis and Rawson and June, the Australian boomerang throwers.

"Mr. Barrymore did the same thing with 'Peter Ibbotson,' Richard and the Told," said Van Buren, "he has achieved stardom," said Miss Van Buren. "Of course, it is all very well for him to say that he doesn't wish to get stale in the part and needs a vacation, but what about the rest of the company?"

"There was a time when acting was bread and butter for John Barrymore, and he seems to have forgotten that it is still bread and butter for his supporting company. They rehearsed six or eight weeks and now at the height of the run, after only twenty weeks or so, he decides to quit. It isn't fair to the other less fortunate members of the cast."

"And what," queries J. Richard Ryan, "does Arthur Hopkins think after sinking all that money into a production only to have it taken off when the returns on the investment are beginning to come in?"

Yes, what does Mr. Hopkins think? It is probably just as well that his thoughts are not known. They are undoubtedly unprintable.

EXITS AND ENTRANCES

"Heavenly and Earthly Love," has been presented with great success in Budapest. George Jean Nathan will probably give a detailed account of the offering, for Budapest is George Jean's favorite municipality.

"The Bat," which comes to Oakland on March 6 for three days, is about to be presented in Berlin, according to S. E. Stanton, general press agent for Wagenhals and Kemper, who also advises this office that when the citizens of Portland, Ore., learned that the show would not play a return engagement, 1000 of them chartered a special train and went to Boston to see the piece. Sounds fishy, doesn't it?

Another bevy of new plays are being primed up for New York dates. The list includes "The Green Scarab," late of Springfield; "Tiger Lily," with Hayakawa from Washington, and "The Sea Woman," with Margaret Anglin.

It really would be a shame to tell how Herbert Harris, after 10, these many months, secured programs for the patrons of the Century and then was unable to distribute them. Yet it may have to be told some time.

Captain Rheba Crawford, about whom the Salvation Army had worries, is about to become a feminine Billy Sunday, according to a report in Variety, the theatrical magazine. Captain Crawford, known as "the angel of Broadway," resigned from the army quite recently.

D. A. R. Plans For Big Rally In Oakland

By EDNA B. KINARD.

The convention is being called for Thursday and Friday, March 8 and 9. Hotel Oakland has been designated the official headquarters.

TWO VOLCANOES IN ALASKA ZONE MIDWY ERIPT

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Jan. 24 (By the Associated Press).—Mount Shushaldin, on Unimak Island in the Aleutian archipelago, was in eruption a few days ago, according to a wireless message received here today from the steamer Far.

The message stated that Shushaldin was now quiet, but that Mount Pavlov, the top of which is believed to have blown off when it erupted recently, was emitting smoke slowly. Pavlov is about 60 miles north of Shushaldin.

All other volcanoes in the Alaska peninsular region are reported at rest.

Red Hair Popular Says British Teacher
(By International News Service.) LONDON, Jan. 27.—The ancient prejudice against red or "ginger" hair received a sad blow when Professor Karl Pearson, lecturing to London school teachers, stated that his conclusion, based on the study of thousands of boys and girls in kindergarten, public and private schools, was that today red-headed boys and girls were the most scientific, athletic and popular.

HINDU SLAYER TO BE HANGED TODAY

SAN RAFAEL, Jan. 24.—Unless Governor Friend Richardson intervenes, Ulla Mohammed, Hindu slayer of Sonoma county, will go to the death cell at San Quentin this afternoon. In an eleventh hour attempt to save Mohammed from the gallows where he is sentenced to hang Friday morning at 10 o'clock, his attorney, J. B. Zimdars, of San Francisco, rushed to the state capital yesterday afternoon.

Mohammed was convicted of slaying his ranch partner, Allie Akbar, Akbar's body was found in the bedroom of the ranch house occupied by the two men near Eureka, with his fingers and throat slashed. A broken razor and two 10-inch knives were found in the room and there was evidence of a struggle. Mohammed was originally sentenced to hang on March 3, 1922, but was twice reprieved by Governor Stephens. He was convicted on circumstantial evidence.

Just remember these facts about Mazola:
Not only does it make all foods fried in it more wholesome and digestible, but there is no waste. After frying merely strain, and use it over and over again. Mazola carries no odors nor flavors from one food to another.

For every baking purpose Mazola is equal to butter, and much better than animal fats. As it is an absolutely pure oil, it contains no water, as do butter and lard.

So if your recipe calls for, say, a cupful of butter or lard, use only 2/3 to 3/4 of a cupful of Mazola.

And remember, too, that many of the best judges of salad oil prefer Mazola even to imported olive oil for its purity and flavor.

WRIGHT NOT TO BE FIRST UNDER SENATE INQUIRY

Committee to Call For Full Explanation of Campaign Expenditures.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Investigation by a legislative committee of five senators into expenditures for or against propositions voted on at the last general election, will be launched this afternoon with a hearing to determine how much money was expended by proponents and opponents of the various propositions. The committee will be headed by Senator Wright, who introduced the measure.

Statements filed by both sides in the Wright act campaign show that $74,521 was used by its sponsors, of which the Anti-Saloon League expended $70,357, and the Women's Christian Temperance Union, $4,164; opponents of the measure stated they expended $22,024, as follows: California Grange, Protective League, $15,558; Trades Union Liberty League, $7,743; and the National Association Against Constitutional Amendments, $718.

Officers of these organizations have been requested to lay their books before the committee, of which Senator Herbert C. Jones of San Jose, is chairman. Subpoenas are expected to be issued for many of those who participated in the expenditure of funds against propositions including the Wright act, also the law on the water and power act which was defeated in the election.

The inquiry originally was aimed at organizations which failed to file campaign statements as required by the Eden law, but those organizations which filed statements, Chairman Jones declared, will not be permitted to hide behind mere documents.

Final passage was looked for today of the bill to amend the bridge and bridge bill, an urgency measure to exempt Alameda county from liability to a federal fine of $5000 a month and to clear the way for construction of a tube under the estuary.

The senate is expected to approve an urgency legislative expense bill which already has passed the assembly.

Both houses are scheduled to meet at 11 a. m. but routine matters and the introduction of additional bills probably will be the only other business.

School Insurance System Favored

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Educators from all over the state forming the school legislative committee, with Mark Keppel, Los Angeles county superintendent, as chairman, met here yesterday. The committee agreed to support a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to establish a state agency empowered to insure school buildings against loss from fire, also to furnish accident insurance for pupils, and to decide in favor of a salary increase for the state superintendent of public instruction and county superintendents of schools.

BETTER THAN CALOMEL

Thousands Have Discovered Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets Are a Harmless Substitute

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the substitute for calomel—are a mild but sure laxative, and their effect on the liver is almost instantaneous. These little olive-colored tablets are the result of Dr. Edwards' determination not to treat liver and bowel complaints with calomel. The pleasant little tablets do the good that calomel does, but have no bad after effects. They do not irritate the teeth like strong liquids or calomel. They take hold of the trouble and quickly correct it. They cure the liver at the expense of the teeth? Calomel sometimes plays havoc with the gums. So do strong liquids. It is best to take calomel. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets take its place.

Headaches, dizziness, and that liver feeling come from constipation and a disordered liver. Take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets when you feel "fogy" or "heavy." They clear the liver, clear the bowels, and perk up the spirits. 10c and 50c.—Advertisement.

What This Buffalo Physician Has Done For Humanity

The picture which appears here of Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., was taken in 1910. As a young man Dr. Pierce practiced medicine in Pennsylvania, and was known far and wide for his great success in alleviating disease. He early moved to Buffalo and put up in ready-to-use form his Golden Medical Discovery, the well-known tonic for the blood. This strength builder is made from a formula which Dr. Pierce found most effective in diseases of the blood. It contains no alcohol and is an extract of native roots with the ingredients plainly stated on the wrapper. Good red blood, vim, vigor and vitality are sure to follow if you take this Alternative Extract. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures all diseases of the blood, and restores the system. Farmers Plan to Fight Budget Cuts Legislative Feast to Be Parley Wood Opposes School Fund Slash

By E. VAN LIER RIBBINK. SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Governor Friend W. Richardson's economy measures, insofar as they will affect the agricultural interests of California, and a proposed investigation of the "gap" between the agricultural products and the consumer, are some of the matters to be discussed tomorrow evening when the "farm bloc" of the legislature will get together at a banquet to be offered to the legislative committee of the California Farm Bureau Federation, the California State Grange and the Farmers' Educational and Cooperative Union.

These associations have combined for action and their voice will be heard in no uncertain manner when the budget is discussed, according to legislators acting as spokesmen for the 60,000 farmers constituting the membership of the bodies mentioned.

ECONOMY CUTS CRITICIZED. Rumored "economy cuts" in the budget pertaining to agriculture will come in for severe criticism, I am informed. One of these "cuts" would affect the $15,000 appropriation for the division of viticulture of the state department of agriculture, which the governor intends to transfer for purposes of research work only, to the University of California.

It will be interesting to watch all this and to see just what power is wielded by the agricultural interests in this legislature. I understand that a very active and able executive committee has been charged by the farmers to bring their "Vox Populi" message to the ears of legislators, and that the following are among its members: C. C. Teague of Santa Paula, president; Roy M. Hugen, San Francisco; H. C. Dunlap, San Jose; Geo. E. Farrand, Los Angeles; Frank T. Sweet, F. B. McKevitt, Sacramento; J. F. Niswander, Fresno, and J. H. Barber. These men represent 31 agricultural associations, conducting an annual business of $250,000,000.

CONTROL BOARD SECRECY. An air of mystery pervades the sacred precincts on the third floor of the capitol, where the state board of control is still laboring to create a budget that will live up to the campaign promises of economy of the governor. I understand that the following is the mode of procedure, quoting a presiding lady in the administrative assemblyman: "They are going down the line, scanning the salary of every state employee, be he departmental head or janitor. As they go along, they glean a little here and there, trimming and shading, wherever there's a chance. The plan is to throw the burden of government on the counties as much as possible."

SCHOOL NEEDS TOLD. State Director of Education Will C. Wood today proved himself a believer in the maxim that "those are best helped, who help themselves." He addressed each member of the legislature with "A frank statement of conditions and needs" of the California Teachers' Colleges and Special Schools, in the course of which he tells the legislators, irrespective of party, that Governor and his Board of Control may have to say on the subject: "There is revenue available for every dollar of appropriations requested for Teachers' Colleges and Special Schools for 1923-1925, without any injustice to any other interest of the state."

He then adds more fuel for speculation as to just where he stands in regard to the Governor's economy plans, by saying: "If the increased operating expenses are not granted, the institutions will be hampered. The cost per student will be higher. Curtailment of the service now offered by these institutions will not bring about a saving, but a loss."

All of which gives cause to think that Governor Richardson has his troubles, and many of them!

OIL INQUIRY URGED. The committee on oil industries of the assembly did not meet yesterday, but it probably will be responsible for a report that the investigation was to be dropped, following Mark Regus's testimony, in the course of which the former fuel administrator advised that the state legislature should not charge itself with an inquiry into the oil companies. As a result of this rumor, the following protest was addressed to Assemblyman Charles A. Foster, chairman of the oil industries committee, by the Independent Service Station owners:

"We have complained of alleged 'freezing-out' tactics on the part of the large oil companies. 'We are informed that an effort is being made to discontinue the work of the oil companies appointed to investigate the cost of gasoline, and we most earnestly recommend and demand that the services of the committee be continued to the completion of its investigation.'

Assemblyman Foster announced today that the hearings on the subject are to continue, and a further session is scheduled to take place this afternoon. Investigating committee on election campaign expenses is likewise to hold its first session this afternoon under direction of Senator Herbert Jones of San Francisco, who introduced the Enforcement act, and the money alleged to have been spent by both sides in this connection, will be discussed.

ANTI-OCH BRIDGE BILL. An important bill to be introduced in the Senate today by Senators W. R. Sharkey, of Martinez, and J. M. Inman, of Sacramento, asking for an appropriation of $800,000 to build a bridge near Antioch, across the Contra Costa river, connecting the Contra Costa shore over West Island to Sherman Island in Sacramento county. This bridge would complete the famous Garden highway from Oakland to Sacramento, and would shorten the distance of the trip through the delta and considerably, Senator Inman declared.

Two interesting historical bills were introduced today. One by Assemblyman Emmett L. Donohue of Sacramento, asking for an appropriation for the restoration, care and upkeep of the old Chapel and grounds at Fort Ross, and the

ONE DEER YEAR ONE ULLI ILLIN, PROPOSED LIMIT IN CALIFORNIA

Plan Also to End Use of Dogs in Chase; Hunting License May Be Raised.

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—(By the United Press.)—With conservation of California's fish and game the object of the legislation, three bills designed to assure the state's hunters and stream followers a bounteous sport for years to come, are being prepared and will be introduced within the next few days, the United Press was informed today. They are:

A bill limiting each hunter to one deer each season.

A bill prohibiting the use of dogs in hunting deer.

A bill increasing the hunting or fishing license to a figure at least double the $1 now charged.

DEER BILL OPOSED. The only measure expected to receive much opposition is the one preventing the use of dogs by deer hunters. Members of the legislature are being flooded with letters from sportsmen opposed to the bill. Cattle owners are heartily in favor of it, declaring that the dogs used in hunting often attack their cattle.

The fish and game commission is supporting the measure to limit each hunter to one buck per season. The commission declares that the increasing number of hunters, the ease with which game country is reached and the rapid decrease of male deer has made such a law imperative if California sportsmen do not desire to exterminate the animals entirely.

CENSUS OF DEER KILLED. Along with this bill will be introduced a provision putting in operation a system designed to make it easy to round up violators as well as provide a census of the actual number of deer killed.

Assemblyman C. C. Baker of Salinas, member of the assembly fish and game commission and a well known sportsman in Monterey county, today declared he will work for the passage of the bill. "California has the lowest fees of any state in the union," declared Baker today. "On the other hand, it has the best hunting and fishing and the most sure every fair minded sportsman would be willing to pay as much as $5 each year for his hunting and fishing privilege, when he considers that the money goes to the good work of the fish and game commission."

TROUT LIMIT TO STAY. Baker declared he has been in force for a bill raising the trout limit. This scheme is particularly desired by sportsmen from sections where the trout are small. "One section," he declared, "however, that the big aim is to conserve the state's hunting and fishing for years to come, such a bill is not likely to meet with favor."

The commission last year planted twenty-six million trout. Baker stated, "and we are sure every sportsman would be willing to pay for them."

Lion hunting department with trained sportsmen engaged to seek and slay the mountain lions in California is being outlined by the commission, it was learned today. "Lions are pictures showing the laying of the largest cable in the world in San Francisco bay. The exhibition will take place Tuesday evening, February 13. It is announced that next week the same exhibition will be held in Oakland. The exhibition is being held to interest the men of the Eastbay district in the purchase of their shoes in Oakland. It is explained that a recent survey shows that 70 per cent of men's shoes used in Oakland are bought in San Francisco."

J. W. McCombs was elected to the board of directors. Kenneth A. Miller was announced as the speaker at the luncheon of the organization to be held February 7. The subject of Miller's address will be "Three Points of Contact."

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Oakland's long battle for a half fare for school children was taken into the State Legislature today, when Assemblyman Anna W. Saylor of Berkeley introduced a bill amending Section 27 of the Public Utilities Act to make the granting of half fares to school children mandatory.

The amendment would affect not only Oakland, but every other city in California.

At present street car companies may, at their option, grant half fares to school children, but there is no authority to compel them to do so. The new law gives the Railroad Commission power to enforce the half-fare statute.

At present half-fares have been granted by the street car companies to school children in San Jose, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Fresno, San Bernardino, Sacramento, Stockton, Santa Cruz, San Diego and Alhambra. The same action has been granted in Richmond and Alameda by the local traction company.

The Saylor amendment, it is explained, has been proved constitutional, as it follows the Massachusetts law which was upheld by the United States Supreme Court.

FIGHT FOR STATE SUPERVISORS TO CHECK CHARITY EXPENDITURES

Resolutions of respect to the memory of A. Jones, a past president of the organization, were adopted at a meeting of the Merced County Exchange last evening and an adjournment taken in his honor.

Reports were made that the entire Alameda county delegation at the legislature had come to the support of the Exchange in its fight for the appointment of a deputy labor commissioner who would be able to devote his entire time to the east side of the bay. At the present time, the labor commissioner's office has a deputy in Oakland and only a portion of a week-end at the present time, this is merely a formality, the board approving without having any adequate information as to the justice of the claim.

The question came before the board when Supervisor Raymond C. Staats complained that Berkeley was not receiving its just share of county funds for charitable purposes and that the deficit was being supplied by the municipal government and private subscription.

The complaint brought the suggestion from William J. Hamilton, chairman of the board, that a closer check should be kept on all such expenditures and that this should be accomplished by the centralizing of all accounts at the Hall of Records. This would enable the board to inquire into all expenditures, he declared.

The appropriations for this year show that the health centers of the different cities received a total appropriation of $38,919.59, while the credited charitable agencies received $41,600. Of the health centers, $10,000 was allocated to the various organizations Oakland received $58,000, Alameda $12,000 and Berkeley $8,333.53. These figures, along with the fact that the Berkeley Welfare Council received but $23,000 for its appropriation, are cited by Supervisor Staats in his contention that the college city is not receiving a just apportionment.

The appropriation to charity organizations is divided into the following: District No. 1, including county territory, $4000; No. 2, Eden township and East Oakland to Thirteenth avenue, $50,000; No. 3, Oakland district bounded by Thirteenth avenue, Twentieth street, Adeline street and estuary, and all of Alameda, $29,000; No. 4, all of Berkeley and Oakland north of Twentieth street as far east as Thirteenth avenue, $25,000; 50 per cent, or $22,000, of the above.

Everywhere and the remainder of West and North Oakland, $30,000.

The total appropriation by the county for all charities and corporations, including county institutions, is $1,925,005.16 for this fiscal year. This is a reduction of approximately 25 per cent from the appropriation for the year before, when economic conditions in the country were considered at a lower level.

Assembly Bill to Halt Pistol Sales

SACRAMENTO, Jan. 24.—Showing a decided slump from the records set the first two weeks, members of the assembly introduced but one bill today, bringing the total for the lower house to 270.

Carrying practically the same provisions as the bill presented yesterday in the senate by Senator Inman, Assemblyman Hawes, of Colusa, introduced a bill to-day aimed at the dangerous sale of pistols in California. The measure provides that no small arms may be sold without a police permit, that none may be purchased by ex-convicts or aliens and sets forth that persons arrested on a felony charge and found carrying a pistol or revolver are subject to an additional sentence of from five to ten years imprisonment.

Assemblyman Inman presented a bill providing for the removal of corporation hospitals maintained partially through workers' assessments. The bill would be named by the employee.

Assemblyman Pomeroy, Redondo Beach, introduced a measure prohibiting speed traps on the highways and ordering traffic officers to wear distinctive uniforms.

Assemblyman Inman, power house floor leader, presented a resolution calling for adjournment of the legislature on January 30, with instructions to reconvene March 1 for the second session.

HUMAN NATURE IN SALESMANSHIP IS LECTURE SUBJECT

Howard J. Wischaupt Gives Second of Business Talks At Aahmes Temple.

Ninety per cent of the people in the United States are dissatisfied with their work and are in the wrong job, according to Howard J. Wischaupt, in the second of a series of lectures being given at Aahmes Temple under the auspices of the Retail Merchants' Department of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce last evening. A capacity hall again greeted the Chamber of Commerce lecturer.

Wischaupt took as his subject "Human Nature and Business Profits." He discussed human tendencies and human weaknesses as they relate to salesmanship and showed how a knowledge of the buyer is necessary for successful selling.

He divided people into three distinct types—those who are "small-eyed," those who are "large-eyed," and those who are "medium-eyed." The "small-eyed" people are those who are not interested in anything, but are only interested in the money. The "large-eyed" people are those who are interested in everything, but are not interested in the money. The "medium-eyed" people are those who are interested in both the money and the thing.

Foreheads are of great value in determining character. A broad forehead means good judgment, according to the speaker, while the short-headed person will jump at conclusions. A Roman nose denotes great ability in leadership and getting money. A Greek nose means refinement, but not much force; diplomats usually have Greek noses. The large nose by all means is the best kind to have, because it denotes success.

"The great treasure island is the mind," said Wischaupt, "and the only key to it is character analysis. Within the next fifty years, we are going to have people along this line so that we can have persons go into each store and place the workers in the positions in which they will be happiest and most efficient."

"Personality in Business" is the subject of the third lecture, which will be given in Aahmes Temple tonight. No admission fee is charged.

When firemen arrived on the scene they found the college girls busy with buckets of water and the blaze practically extinguished. About $25 damage was done to the cook's quarters which are located in the basement of the clubhouse.

Steam From Geyser in Sonoma County Drives Engine and Develops 1500 Horsepower

Engine connected with and driven by steam from a natural geyser in Sonoma county, twenty-two miles from Healdsburg. It is estimated by engineers that 1500 horsepower is developed in this engine. This power will be utilized in drilling other vents to connect with the underground steam, and it is predicted that in time the Sonoma county geysers will be supplying electric energy for all the Northbay district.

Energy Will Be Utilized in Drilling Farther Vents to Connect With Natural Boiler.

HEALDSBURG, Jan. 24.—History was made recently when natural steam from the bowels of the earth turned the wheels of a steam engine at The Geysers, 22 miles northeast of here. This was the first time such an event had occurred on the American continent, and it has been estimated that there has been similarly harnessed for several years.

When the wheels of the engine at The Geysers turned over, it marked the first realization of the dreams of John L. Grant of this city, who several years ago purchased the tract property with the intention of experimenting to see if natural power could not be developed from the powerful steam vents in Geyser canyon. In a few years, it is predicted, The Geysers will be supplying electric energy for all the north of the bay district.

It took Grant several years to harness the steam, the power on several occasions blowing piping and drilling machinery out of the well. The successful completion of the hole has resulted in development of a new source of power.

The power from the first well will be used to drill others. A holding company is now being organized to own and control the land in The Geysers section and to lease it out to a power developing company. Engineers from many parts of the country have viewed the work at The Geysers, and declared that the project shows great possibilities.

Russian Tenor Here In Recital Saturday

The recent success of Vladimir Rosing, the Russian tenor, in San Francisco, San Jose and San Rafael, has made the interest in Oakland keen for the recital he will give at the auditorium next Saturday night. His second concert in San Francisco last Monday evening was well attended. Ben Hays, who proved an able accompanist, will play the accompaniment for Rosing at the auditorium.

Rosing has been more or less of a sensation in Madrid, London, Paris, New York and Chicago, due to his unusual interpreting of unknown songs.

This concert, January 27th, is the second of the Thursday Colburn Concert Course of which Lulu J. Blumberg is associate manager. Following this one will be two other ones by Michele Leventri, young pianist, and one by the London String Quartet.

LEGION URGES SCHOOL CADETS

BERKELEY, Jan. 24.—Resolutions urging the board of education to include military training in the curricula of the Berkeley High school were adopted last night by Berkeley Post No. 7, American Legion. The introduction of military training was urged "in the interest of better citizenship and preparation."

Charles Mowry, chairman of the resolutions committee, introduced the measure deploring that the Berkeley High school was one of the few schools in the bay district to be without a military cadet corps.

Mowry said that in conference with school directors he learned that they were enthusiastic over military training at the high school, but that public sentiment should be secured on the question.

Christian Science Case Goes to Court

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 24.—(By The Associated Press.)—Federal Judge Anderson today assumed jurisdiction in a case which counsel for the trustees of the Christian Science Publishing Society and the board of directors of the mother church had contended was ecclesiastical upon which a court of law was not qualified to act.

Mrs. Catherine Allen of Phoenix, Ariz., brought suit to restrain the trustees and the directors from removing her card as a Christian science practitioner from the advertising columns of the Christian Science Journal, contending that she held a contract for publication for one year.

Her card had been ordered dropped, it developed, because of the criticisms by her of the church administration. Counsel for the trustees and the directors in a motion that the suit be dismissed argued that the question was one of ecclesiastical discipline. Counsel for Mrs. Allen held it merely involved the contractual rights of an advertiser.

SLAYER SAYS HE FIRED SHOT IN SELF-DEFENSE

Joe Busch, Principal in San Pablo Tragedy, Appears For Arraignment.

MARTINEZ, Jan. 24.—Joe Busch, arrested Sunday after he had shot and killed Antonio Gallegos at the Country clubhouse at San Pablo, was arraigned today before Justice of the Peace G. A. Grover at San Pablo on a charge of murder. Time of his preliminary examination was not fixed.

Warrant charging Busch with murder was served by Constable M. C. Moitosa of San Pablo when Busch was taken there by sheriff's officers. Officers also continued their investigation at the place of the shooting.

H. V. Alvarado, of Richmond, deputy district attorney, appeared for the state, but Busch was represented by counsel. He declared he has not yet secured an attorney.

Gallegos' widow, according to word received at Richmond, is en route to that city from New Mexico. Funeral arrangements and an inquest are waiting upon her arrival. Gallegos is reported to be survived by ten children in addition to his widow.

According to Deputy District Attorney James F. Hoey, Busch still maintains that he went to Gallegos' establishment to see him about a furniture bill. He declared he fired on Gallegos when Gallegos made a move as if to obtain a gun.

Officers claim that after shooting Gallegos, Busch made a effort to gain entrance to a room in which Mrs. Helen Loughran, partner of Gallegos and former partner of Busch in operation of a cafe, had secreted herself.

Friends of Busch declare he is married and that his wife and five children reside in Colusa.

BASEBALL MANAGERS WHO MAKE FEW CHANGES IN LINEUPS USUALLY PROVE SUCCESSFUL

CRYSTAL LAUNDRY AN EXAMPLE OF SUCCESS AMONG LOCAL TEAMS

Best Tractors of San Leandro and Magnavox Nine Also Went Through Season With Practically Original Lineup.

By EDDIE MURPHY.

The manager, even in the bushes, who makes few changes in his lineup during a season, usually meets with success. This has been proven many times in organized baseball, and the present season in the Oakland TRIBUNE Mid-winter League has borne it out. It will be noticed in all three divisions of the Class A League that the clubs in which few changes of membership were made, are the ones up in the running. In the Coast Division, the Crystal Laundry signed but twenty men all through the season, the last of them on the day of the first game. That team won the division championship. Phil Koerner signed but seventeen for the Coast Tire team and finished second, and Frank Dreishbach used but sixteen different men all season for his Zenith Mill team, which finished third.

The Del Monte cafe team probably set the record for the Class division by signing but fourteen ball players all through the season. They started the season with thirteen, and on the final day of signing Joe Devine and Otto Egenberger added Taylor Douthitt to the list. Now the good results are shown by the Del Monte leading the race in the American division by two games.

TRACTORS 'MAGS' SUCCEED
But seventeen players were signed all season by the C. L. Best Tractors, and that club is tied with the Magnavox for second place. The Tractors may be setting better in the race, but for the fact that "Marine" Austin and Andy Wasco left the club in the middle of the race. The Magnavox team, signed but sixteen players, has more than any other club in the American division, out that all happened before the second game. When the list closed, the "Mags" had fourteen players signed, but Quinn was put on the ineligible list, and everyone of the remaining thirteen are out in uniform each Sunday to account for the success of that club. The Oakland Athletics signed but fifteen players all season, but continually switched the lineup.

In the National division, the Shattuck Avenue Merchants, who are tied with Pleasanton for first place, signed but seventeen, while Tony Silva signed eighteen for Pleasanton. Twenty players were signed by the Coney Druggs who are having a game behind Shattucks and Pleasanton.

TOUGH ON CALATONES
The race in the National division is as close as fans could expect so far in the season, but it would hardly be a surprise if the Calatones Water company team did not meet with a lot of tough luck. "Spider" Lewis is lucky to have nine men on the field each Sunday, but he is not lacking. Several of his players are tough and hard to run out, but his star chucker who reported to the Oaks next spring, was forced out of service with a sore arm. Machine first felt the soreness three weeks ago, and has not returned since. This explains the sudden change of form by the Calatones Water team. In spite of the bad break, the Calatones are only a game and a half behind the leaders, but out of the running.

BACKSTOP IN MAKING
This is a bright future in the baseball world for George Viant, the twenty-year-old catcher, who the Magnavox team has signed for the season. Viant continues to improve in his playing as he has in the last year. A year ago he was looking around playing any position, but now he is working steadily as a catcher, and is showing with the "Mags" has won him many a booster. He not only led up the shoots of Danny Deaver, Tony Buckleback and "Red" Kaiter, but he has frequently enough to class him with the leading hitters in the league. His batting average for the ten games is .417. He has safely fifteen hits in thirty games. For the short while he has been at the catching game, he is a wonder for he can think quick and throw.

CRYSTALS MAKE RECORD
Of the Oakland TRIBUNE Mid-winter league, a Class A team went through the season without meeting with a defeat, when the Crystal Laundry line, managed by Bob Martin, defeated the Walton N. Motors for their eleventh straight win and clinched the championship of the division. Carter has a club that he can feel proud of and fans are looking at as the one that must between the winners of an three Class A divisions. In selecting his lineup before the opening of the season, Carter figures that plenty of pitchers are needed to carry a club through a winter season, and then stepped out and signed four who are all capable of winning games. The line, managed by Bob Martin, defeated the Walton N. Motors for their eleventh straight win and clinched the championship of the division. Carter has a club that he can feel proud of and fans are looking at as the one that must

BOB SMALE MAKING GOOD.
Manager Bobby Smale of the Durant Motor team is entitled to a lot of credit for the way in which he took over the team with only eight other men besides himself. Bobby made his debut with the nine-man club by losing to Hayward Boosters, the score being 20 to 10. Bobby and his Motor boys refused to quit there and they came back last Sunday and took the Melrose Merchants into camp. Smale claims that his team will beat any rules could not have been found elsewhere.

GAME AT MARTINEZ.
MARTINEZ, Jan. 24.—A team from the Young Men's Institute of San Francisco will oppose the American Legion basketball team at 7 p.m. Saturday night. While there were a few of the team members will be the guests of the local Y. M. I. Council. A dance will follow the game.

Local Golfer Does Well

ABE ESPINOSA, of Oakland, is still in the running for the Southern California open championship now being contested at the Flintridge course. Abe is second to Tom Stevens and is tied with five others.

Joe Lynch Is In Line for Buff Battle

JOE LYNCH can have the match with Johnny Buff here next Wednesday night. Matchmaker Tommy Simpson will have a talk with Manager Dolph Thomas tonight and if Dolph is willing to listen to reason the bout will be signed.

Simpson has been besieged with challenges from every bantamweight in the West, all anxious to box the former champion, but Tommy does not let sentiment or friendship interfere with business and he is going to give the plum to Lynch whom he says never made a bad fight.

GOLF
By W. D. McNICOLL
The Northern California Dental Golf Association will hold its monthly contest over the San Jose course tomorrow. Dr. Fred Curtis will have charge of the tournament, which is to be run on a new system. It has been considered desirable that players of equal ability should as far as possible be paired. A low handicap player competing with a limit man invariably plays under his regular game. Competitors at San Jose have their partners selected for them during the tournament proper which starts at 10 a. m.

The after lunch game will be informal as on previous occasions when the limit players may compete with the experts. If the weather conditions are favorable a large attendance of Claremont, Sequoyah, Berkeley and Diablo golfers will be present, and will find the Prune City course most delightful to play over during the winter months. The Sequoyah representatives will be weakened by the absence of Dr. H. G. Meek and Dr. J. H. Stuenkel, neither of whom will be able to compete. Dr. C. F. Jarvis is still experimenting with his game, and is liable to shoot the kind of golf until he finally settles down.

Dr. C. F. McMath was going strong some months ago, but has recently slumped in his short game, probably San Jose will see him in his game again. Dr. A. E. Spies and Dr. T. E. Moore are playing to their regular handicap form at present. The Berkeley representatives should do well as they have excellent opportunities to practice over their home course which is in good condition at present. The contest is to be at handicap over 18 holes.

Tomorrow is invitation day at Berkeley, when a sweepstakes tournament will be held by the women members and their guests.

BASKETBALL
The Standard Oil quintet took the 30th Rites into camp last night at the Armory by a score of 23 to 24, taking the lead in the first division of the Eastbay basketball unlimited league.

In the preliminary game the Concord "Y" defeated the First Congregational Church quintet of the 145-pound division by a score of 33 to 21.

Action taken at a meeting of the Board of Directors of the Eastbay league yesterday postponed the All Comers-Plymouth A. C. 145-pound game from January 31 to the end of the season.

The All Comers-First Congregational game for next Saturday night has been transferred to the Tech high gym at 7:30.

An effort is being made to have the Lincoln Club and Hayward Natives play their game at the Oakland "Y" Saturday night instead of February 15.

Heavyweight Boxers Like To Be Heard

Jess Willard's Line of Character Is Not Getting Him Much.

By HENRY J. FARRELL
United Press Sports Editor.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Jess Willard's belated howl that Jack Dempsey put something over on him at Toledo in 1919 failed to create any excitement. It was accepted casually and considered rather to be expected since it has become a custom for defeated heavyweights to cry that they did not lose on the level.

Willard did not go into details about the stunts pulled to relieve him of his title, but it was thought that he was in mind the old story that Dempsey had his fists packed in cement when he went into the ring.

Jimmy De Forest, who trained Dempsey for the fight, and who handled him in the ring in Toledo, was once quoted as saying that Dempsey had "Kid McCoy's bandages." But De Forest later denied the story, and said that he put nothing but the regulation tape on his hands.

Willard, however, and a good many other fans have never been able to figure why the champion fairly mashed in Willard's face on that particular occasion when he hardly left marks on his numerous other victims.

Dempsey can come back perhaps with some good argument in the claim that he never had to hit anyone like he hit Willard to put him out.

For the next three months anything that Willard says must be taken as pure "steam."

As far as that goes everything that anyone connected with heavy-weight boxing has to say before the middle of next summer might be discounted as halftruth for Dempsey's next fight.

Scraps for the heavy-weight championship have become such tremendous business propositions that it takes almost a year to get over with one. It requires miles of columns and tons of words.

The miles of words and the tons of conversation will be ditched out from now until next July.

There may have been one heavy-weight champion in the past who was willing to admit that he was beaten by a better man, but his name isn't just on the end of the tongue.

Jim Jeffries said he "got him" in a cup of tea and Jack Johnson at one time said he landed a deliberate flop in losing to Willard.

Johnson afterwards denied that he had been fixed to do the diving act, but a lot of wise boxing bugs have always believed, and they do get that Johnson was not out when he took the count, because he covered his eyes with his gloves to shield them from the sun as the referee was counting over him.

It sounds reasonable that Jack was all in, tired and worn, that he knew he could not win and decided to lose when he had a good chance.

Tales of sharp practice always follow big boxing contests nowadays. It is no new story that Johnson was "arranged" to let Jeffries beat him, and that Jack forgot all about the agreement when he saw he could win the title and its fortune.

Exactly the same thing came out after the Carpenter-Sisk fight, the claim being that Sisk was to have taken a dive for the films and that he forgot the lines of scenario when the Frenchman hurt him with a punch on the chin.

Battling Nelson in Fresno Arena
FRESNO, Jan. 24.—Living over again the days when they were not "has been" but the cream of the pugilist world, Battling Nelson, one-time world's champion light-weight, and Dick Hyland, a close contender for 25 rounds at Colma, thirteen years ago, fought three one-minute rounds before a packed and delighted house here last night. They did little damage.

In the main event of the card, George Lee of Sacramento and Young Kelly of Racine, Wis., traded four snappy rounds to a draw.

One of the largest crowds that ever attended a fight in Fresno witnessed the bouts.

BOWLING

Taking three straight from Oakland No. 1 last night at the Mary-land alleys the Piedmont No. 2 team stepped into a three-game lead over Piedmont No. 1 and Oakland No. 1 in the Alameda County N. S. G. W. bowling league. The sweeping victory of the Piedmont team gave them a lead which appears too large for either of the runners up to overcome in the few remaining weeks of play.

Piedmont No. 1, considered practically out of the running last week, came back by making a clean sweep from Halcyon.

Alameda recovered somewhat on their home alleys at Zing's and sent the Athens rollers of "Noisy" Gregg back with three tentines.

Brooklyn managed to hold onto fourth position by taking the odd game from Fruitvale.

High team series was turned in by the Alameda team with 2979. Rose landed the attack with a 618 series which greatly aided the men of Dico Peterson and LaFranchi of Piedmont No. 1 shot 620 for high series of the league while Delen of Piedmont No. 2 turned in a 618 series.

Each individual game went to the Alameda team by a margin of one pin, 1007 against 1005 of Piedmont No. 1.

LaFranchi of Piedmont No. 1 turned in two high individual games in PIEDMONT NO. 2.

WELTERWEIGHTS TOP AN ALL-STAR CARD AT AUDITORIUM ARENA

Frankie McCann and Joe Leopold Meet in Special Event; Racehorse Roberts and Sammy Pelsinger Reopen League.

By BOB SHAND.

There is a bit of ill feeling between Jimmy Duffy and Jack Josephs that is liable to crop out at the Auditorium this evening when the welterweights meet in the main event of T. J. Simpson's weekly fistic entertainment. It will be recalled that Duffy and Josephs boxed in the south a few weeks ago and that Josephs received the decision. When Duffy arrived home he did not climb to the top of a tall building and shout that he had been robbed. Jimmy simply smiled when asked regarding the justice of the decision, but that smile told a whole lot. It told either that Josephs got more than was coming to him or that Duffy is quite satisfied with the verdict that meant another medal in another match.

Josephs, who is training at the Surf club in Alameda, declares there could have been no other decision in the southern fight because Duffy was beaten in every round. Some ringside customers say Duffy picked off most of the blows with his gloves and arms and that his display of boxing was so clever that it went over the heads of the judges and referee. Tonight will tell the tale. If Josephs could defeat Duffy in Los Angeles he has the same chance of defeating him in Oakland. This is one town where the home boys never get the breaks. Josephs is confident he can make it two in a row over the Minneapolis welter while Duffy just smiles.

In his boxing since coming here Josephs has shown considerable skill and he may be all that he has been cracked up to be. However, the gymnasium work is no criterion. Some of them are changes in the gym and something else in the ring and vice versa. Josephs' record is impressive, but he had it dated considerably a couple of weeks ago when Phil Salvador took a decision over him at Vernon. Josephs claims Salvador is a much improved boxer and will whip a lot of first-class champions.

Frankie McCann will make his second start under the management of Tom W. Dodd. In his first start he stopped Eddie Hanlon and he will attempt to do the same thing to Joe Leopold this evening. Leopold is going good again and has a draw with Harold Faresse to his credit.

Sammy Pelsinger and Racehorse Roberts will resume operations where they left off a few months ago. Roberts is leading the league at present.

One of the most interesting mills of the evening should be furnished by Frankie Britt and Cop Nelson. They are willing workers.

Harry Scott and George Spencer will fight for a neat medal and a match with Faresse at the great show.

Jimmy Rizzo, who has made a home for himself on this side of the bay, will entertain Young Baker while Johnny Lamar and Tommy Harris will meet in the curtain raiser.

Joe Morgan, the Irish welterweight who has been winning across the bay, will meet Fernando

Frank Schulte Given Release By Local Club

FRANK SCHULTE, veteran outfielder and hero of many a thrilling major league battle, was given his unconditional release by the Oakland club this morning. Schulte has numerous offers and will make a deal for himself in the course of a few days.

Schulte was obtained from the Seattle club last season and was not used regularly. He fell down as a pinch hitter. Frank would prefer to play on the Coast but may go East again if a suitable offer is received.

Herman at the Association club tonight. Herman is a brother of Tillie.

The San Francisco promoters have realized the futility of staging ten-bout shows and have cut to fight. The ten-bout program keeps the fans out of the bay too long.

Eastern writers declare Dave Shande would get a match with Champion Mickey Walker if he would secure another manager. Leo Flynn ignored Mickey when he was ascending the ladder and now that he has arrived he is going to get even.

Duke and Ludy to Play for L.A.A.C.
LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—Duke Kahanamoku, Hawaiian swimmer and Ludy Langer of Los Angeles, formerly of Chicago and Hawaii, who has held a number of swimming records, will play in a water polo contest tonight for the Los Angeles Athletic club against the Pasadena Beach squad in the club's tank here. They are also entered with more than a score of other men and women swimmers and divers in a swimming meet, the first of the 1933 season.

The affair will be held under the auspices of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Gibbons Knocked Out Track Schedule

Young Papke and Eddie Higgins boxed a slow draw in the main event at the San Francisco Arcadia Club's show last night. Joe Layman gave away too much weight to Frankie Thomas and lost the decision. Alex Tasloff was willing but lost to Will Oliver.

George Gibbons was knocked cold by Tommy Gardner, not once but twice. In the first round Gibbons was out across the ropes, but the referee pulled him back into the ring and gave him plenty of time to recover as he sprawled on the floor. In the second round two left hooks in succession turned the avary loose for George.

Lee Mason was knocked down for nine in the fourth round by Jimmy Fitten, who romped off with the decision.

Sarazen Lags Behind in Golf Play in South

Black, Espinosa and Neville of Oakland Qualify For Final Round.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 24.—Gene Sarazen, national open and professional golf champion, who in qualifying rounds lagged behind the leaders, and Jock Hutchison, formerly British open champion, who tied with four other players for second place, were to make last efforts for the Southern California open championship in the final 36-hole round at the Flint Ridge Country Club today.

The participants were the 32 low score professionals and the same number of amateurs from the 209 players who entered the qualifying rounds.

FORECAST UNSETTLED.
The forecast was for unsettled, rainy weather, which was expected to handicap the golfers by making both clothes and greens soggy.

Tom Stevens, Minnesota open champion, who turned in the best card of the tournament yesterday with 69, two strokes under par for 18 holes, making his total for 153 today was expected to be given a hot battle by Hutchison, who shot a 75 and made his total for 36 holes 148.

Sarazen played no better yesterday than in the first round Monday, and while his total of 153 qualified him for today's playing, he was not expected to push the leaders. More than a score, including both professionals and amateurs, turned in better cards than Sarazen in the qualifying rounds.

BLACK IS RUNNER-UP.
John Black of Oakland, runner-up to Sarazen in the last national open championship, toured the course in 72 today, making his total 150.

Other low scores were: W. Robinson, Philadelphia, 152; Harold Clark, San Francisco, 153; Bill Hanley, Portland, Ore., 154; Chick Fraser, Somerset Country Club, St. Paul, 154; E. S. (Scotty) Armstrong, Los Angeles amateur, 155; Willie McEwan, San Francisco, 155; Hutt Martin, Los Angeles, 155; J. Novak, Spokane, 156; Mortie Dutro, Del Monte, 157; J. Simpson, San Diego, 158; Willie Delisle, Tacoma, 158.

Maurice McLoughlin, former world's ten-is champion, had a total of 156. Arnold Satz, baseball player with the Chicago Nationals, made the thirty-six holes in 157. Tom Stevens' sensational 69 on the difficult Flint Ridge course was the surprise of the day. Stevens' best work was his putting on the greens, which were very heavy after yesterday's rain. Accurate driving and spectacular approach shots also featured his play. Damp weather and soggy greens hampered the players. Thirty-two low score professionals and the same number of amateurs will play 36 holes for the title today.

Others who qualified for today's play are: Jack Neville of Oakland, amateur champion; Harold Clark, Willie McEwan and Harold Sampson, all of San Francisco; Mortie Dutro of Del Monte, Calif.; Joe Novak of Spokane, Wash.; Willie Dalgleish of Tacoma, Wash.; Bill Hanley of Portland, Ore.; James Simpson of San Diego; Ernest and Hutt Martin, red J. Wright Jr. and Dave Finlay, all of Los Angeles, and Dr. Paul Hunter, formerly California amateur champion, and Mel Smith of Pasadena.

LIVERMORE, Cal., Jan. 24.—In the last game of basketball here last night the Battery C team of Livermore defeated the All-Hawaiian team 24 to 15. "Chocolate" Chung and Nolan were the stars for the All-Stars while Jim McGlinchey featured the play for Livermore. The score at the end of the first period was 14 to 7 in favor of Livermore.

The line-up:
Battery "C" (24)—W. McGlinchey (12), forward; Jim McGlinchey (4), center; John McGlinchey (2), guard; Smith, guard.

All Hawaiians (15)—Nolan (4), forward; Kalkieau (2), forward; Tate, center; Clark, guard; Matsunaga, guard.

BIG LEAGUE RECRUITS

By Wood Cowan

There are some things on the Pacific Coast that come higher than the Rockies. Ask any big league magnate and his answer will be that the price of a west coast rookie comes bigger than the Allied debt.

"Fact is," says Connie Mack—and he ought to know, having just bought one of the expensive nick-nacks—if you laid the dollar bills end to end that I just fished over to the Portland club for one of these rare jewels, they would reach from here to the moon. I don't care how far away it is either.

Of course nobody is falling for these fabulous prices alleged to have been paid for all this ivory from the coast. It looks good in print and the baseball press agent has to keep the public going during the dull season, so he pulls off a trade that never goes

Tribute Paid To Organizer Of Ball Club

HONOLULU, Jan. 24.—(By International News Service).—Tribute to the man who eighty years ago organized the Knickerbocker baseball club in New York City and drew up the first set of rules of organized baseball was paid today by the members of the major league Oriental barnstorming squad.

They went in a body to Nuanu cemetery where Herb Hunter laid a floral wreath on the grave of Alexander Joy Cartwright.

Governor Farrington and Sanford B. Dole, ex-president of the republic of Hawaii, lauded Cartwright and told of how he spread baseball throughout the United States on his way to California in the gold rush and finally introduced it in Hawaii. The major leaguers yesterday afternoon trimmed the Braves 11 to 0.

The Goldsmith trophy has been won at following: 1919, Washington; 1920, Porter; 1921, Washington.

In the five leagues Lincoln took part in seventeen inter-school games, piling up 323 points to 299 for her opponents.

Plans Made for Purchase of Links

SONOMA, Jan. 24.—A group of capitalists are reported to be negotiating for the purchase of the Sonoma Golf and Country Club property and the Boyes Mineral Springs, which if it goes through, will involve approximately $400,000.

The property, comprising 100 acres, is ideally located but a short distance from the baths as a natural park. The golf property, formerly the home of J. H. Rigelow, has a spacious residence to be used as a club house in connection with a new proposed hotel. Present plans call for the improvement of the golf links.

The property has, for the past two years, been used as the spring training camp of the San Francisco baseball club.

Kearns Gives Promoters 24 Hours' Notice

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—(By International News Service).—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, came to New York today and delivered an ultimatum to the fight promoters that they must come to terms for a title bout within 24 hours or the champion would go to England to fight Joe Beckett.

Kearns was emphatic on the time limit. He declared he and the champion wasted too much time last summer in dilly-dallying with the eastern promoters. They were tired of waiting for action, Kearns said.

Kearns said he had an offer from Major Arnold Wilson to box Beckett in London.

"The champion is guaranteed $250,000 in American money," said Kearns, "and while that amount is hardly enough the chances are that the bid will be raised when we talk business. It would be a lot better for us to accept this English offer and get some cash than to remain idle about these parts."

"American promoters should know their own minds by now."

"No one is barred by Dempsey."

Two games in the 145-pound division and two games in the 130-pound division comprise the schedule of basketball on tap tonight in the Eastbay basketball league.

Two games at Tech will furnish the main attraction with single contests at Oakland High and Fremont High.

At Tech the preliminary will be played by the Lincoln Arrows and St. Joseph's Sodality. Five in the 130-pound division. The St. Joseph's boys, as fast an aggregation as could be asked for, will give the Lincoln Arrows their hardest game of the season and the winners of tonight's match can safely be picked as the winner of the division. The game is scheduled to start at 7:30.

Church Holds Boxing Bouts; Cops Stop 'Em

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—A boxing match staged by a church society was stopped in the second round last night by the police of Oak Park, a suburb, despite an injunction halting any interference by the police, obtained earlier in the day.

The decision of the police to halt the bout came when one of the boxers was lifted bodily in the arena for a knockout by a right swing to the jaw. The police then decided that the bout was a prize fight, forbidden by Illinois laws.

At Oakland High the Plymouth Golds will tangle with the Meteors in the 145-pound race. There appears to be no stopping this Plymouth, but if any team in the 145-pound division has a chance, the Meteors appear to have tonight. The game should be one of the best of the week and starts at 8:30.

The All Comers appear to have a set-up in the Chabot Athletic Club at Fremont High at 7:30 in the 130-pound division, the All Comers being among the teams to beat of that division.

Landis Is Not Worried Over The Situation

Commissioner Is Eating His Way Through Eastern States.

By SID MERCER.
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—Two sporting celebrities arrived yesterday from the west. The other one was Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, who is not here to fight, but is filling gastronomic engagements on the eastern time.

Judge Landis claims to be a man of peace. He declined to be drawn into any strong comment on the rift between the two factions of his baseball family.

"I am merely eating my way formally and informally through the states of Pennsylvania, New York and Connecticut," he said.

"There is no pressing baseball business to bring me here—no conferences or secret meetings. I have not even called a joint meeting of the National or American leagues for February as has been reported."

At this time there seems to be no urgent need for it.

Judge Landis will speak tonight at a baseball dinner in Reading, Pa. On Thursday night he will be the principal speaker at an American Legion dinner in Altoona, Pa.

GOLD DISCOVERY DAY.

Today is the seventy-fifth anniversary of the discovery of gold in California. It is that day which holds the greatest wealth of associations with the hardy men of '49 and the early '50s who crossed the prairies and the mountains to look for the precious metal in the hills of Northern California—the day of the Argonauts, the newer Jaxons in search of the Golden Flake!

While January 24, 1848, is the day fixed and sacred upon as discovery day, there was a knowledge in gold in the state even before that time. For instance, small quantities were found in shallow diggings not far from the Old Mission of San Fernando as early as 1842, but the extent of the find was so limited no excitement was caused elsewhere than in the immediate vicinity. There are stories that the Indians of Northern California brought pieces of gold to Monterey as early as 1843 and there is little doubt they knew where it could be found.

The word the world was waiting for was voiced by James W. Marshall, of Captain Sutter's inland empire in the Sacramento Valley.
Sutter saw the need of lumber and a sawmill and had on a site on the South Fork of the American river, about forty-five miles from the fort, a place recommended by Marshall, whom he had sent out for this purpose.

Marshall directed the building of a road to the site of the mills and carried the supplies in. On January 27, 1848, the mill was ready for use and Marshall opened the floodgates to clear the millrace of debris. In the morning the 24th, after he had allowed the stream to run over night, he closed off the flow of water and walked down the bed of the race to see what all was in readiness.

Among the pebbles which remained in the race Marshall saw some which shone yellow.
He picked them up and found them heavy.
For a time the party continued to work on the millrace, picking up the shining pebbles as they found them.

"Our work progressed as lively as ever," Marshall said, "for none of us imagined at that time that the whole country was sowed with gold."

When Marshall took the shining pebbles to Sutter, the captain tested them and proved them gold. Knowing that the news would spread, he kept the discovery a secret but too many had heard of it. The rush began and it was not long before the towns on the coast were practically deserted and their men scattered over the foothills and lower slopes of the Sierra.
The news spread to the East. Ships were loaded with adventurers and a new chapter of the history of mining gold and emigrant trains started across the plains. Marshall's discovery had brought in the new day.

The seventy-five years which have passed have seen the hills and streams scoured and sifted. They have seen deep rock mining with tunnels and slopes thousands of feet underground and they have seen giant dredges turn up acres of land. And the gold is still being taken from California, prospectors are yet in the hills.

"TOO MUCH IMAGINATION."

"She drew too much upon her imagination."
This is the explanation given for an act of a young girl whose head was filled with dreams of a more colorful world than this. How much one may draw upon the imagination is a question which has bothered the psychologists and those whose philosophies are largely fashioned of mental strands.

One man draws upon the imagination and is called a genius. Another is called an im-agineur. It is not so much the mere drawing or the amount that is drawn—it is the selection and the manner of the materials he withdraws from the land of dreams, which builds or breaks.
A genius is always heroic and the imaginative one peoples his dreams with figures out of fiction. He goes adventuring in fields which may be treacherous. It is difficult to thrust the head above the clouds and keep the feet upon the ground.

Attractive and alluring as the romantic vistas of the imagination are, there is a border which cannot be approached at least until the man or woman is equipped with maturity and experience. One must mingle in the commonplace, the material and the every day to know anything of life. Yet, like a fleet horse, saddled and waiting, the imagination waits outside the doors of the conscious, pawing in impatience for the canter. Ride him for a brief and glorious vacation adventure—if you are sure he will not run away.

A HARBOR VICTORY.

Practical assurance that the full rivers and harbor appropriation as recommended by the Chief of Army Engineers will be approved by Congress and President Harding was made when the House, on Friday, amended the Army Appropriation Bill, increasing the item for waterway projects from $37,000,000 to $56,589, 000. The decisive vote with which the amendment was carried, 152 to 44, and past experience would indicate no obstacles will be put in the way of final approval of the measure.

To Oakland the bill will mean $235,000 of the new Federal program will be spent here before June 30, 1924, provided that in the meantime definite action is taken on the removal of bridges. Altogether in the area of San Francisco Bay more than a million dollars will be spent in the same period.

The amounts which the Chief of Army Engineers says may properly be expended during the fiscal year include: Oakland Harbor, $235, 000; San Francisco Harbor, $340,000; Richmond Harbor, $128,000; San Pablo Bay and Mate Island Strait, $130,000; Suisun Bay
Channel, $11,000; Petaluma Creek, $40,000;
San Rafael Creek, $190,000; San Joaquin River, $26,000; Stockton and Mormon channels, $5,000; Sacramento River, $20,000. These amounts, all for this harbor or those harbors and waterways tributary or adjacent, total $1,013,000.

Other expenditures to be made in the state are: San Diego Harbor, $127,850; Los Angeles, $760,000; Humboldt Harbor and Bay, $827,
450; Nova River, $16,000; Mokelumne River,
$800; Yuba River, restraining barriers, $15,000.

The Budget Bureau's recommendations for the maintenance of rivers and harbors for the year was $27,925,700, which would cut in half the amount to be appropriated. This amount was carried in the Army Appropriation Bill which, of course, originated in the House as all appropriation bills must. The increase provided for in the amendment, which was carried in so decisive a way is in line with the Army Engineers' recommendations and the recommendations of the National Rivers and Harbor Congress and means that in all likelihood one million dollars and more will be spent in Oakland and surrounding and tributary territory instead of less than $700,000.

MAKE A WILL.

A large percentage of those who die leave no wills for the distribution of their money or estates. There are so many things to be gained by the writing of a will, so many perplexities and sources of trouble to be overcome, it is strange so many neglect the task. Perhaps the natural inclination men have of postponing the time when they must think seriously of the possibility of dying is responsible.

When it is proved that less than three per cent of the wills filed for probate are broken and that a large majority of those that are broken were prepared without advice of qualified experts, doubt remains no valid argument.
The "Thrifty Week" injunction to "make a will"
is pertinent.

The important steps in the making of a will include the seeking of competent advice, consideration of the manner in which the estate is to be distributed, and the provision of careful and efficient management of the estate. A result will be that the properties will go to the man making the will will have the right to select who shall manage his estate.

Thrifty Week closed yesterday in the United States. It starts annually on the birthday of Benjamin Franklin. Among the important points stressed during its observance was the one of the advisability of making a will.

This is the season when the "probe" gets busy. At least, when most frequent reference is made to its being set to work. In almost every story of the doings at Sacramento there is reference to something being "probed." But remembering other sessions, and the many similar references in other states and nationally, the important results of record from the process are so near to being nil that the probe has come to be a humorous tool. Some who feel themselves in line with the course of a probe which it is proposed to insert may feel perturbed if they lack experience, but soon they are reassured. The probe has come to be a tool of the law, and its use is against impropriety in public affairs.

"Misconduct, what do your children say?"

is, "You will have to show me." Anybody knows that.

ELECTRONIC REACTIONS.

Hermione bounced in out of a snowstorm the other day.
"Aren't you just mad about the D. R. A.?" she said. "Haven't you heard about it? It's the very newest thing in the scientific world, you know, started by a leading lady."
He is the most wonderful thing!
And the things he does are practically miracles!

"I heard the most fascinating man speak about the D. R. A.—the Electronic Reactions of Abrams. I think it means—the other night when we met—our Little Group of Serious Thinkers, you know—at Fothergill Finch's cellar."

"Fothergill says he simply loves having a cellar. He feels so away from the harshness of Life, if you get what I mean. The daylight hardly gets in at all, you know, and he can feel absolutely alone with his spirit. None of the clash and struggle of the World."

"Though, of course there is a tearoom on the floor above. But it's a great convenience, even if it is noisy, because Fothergill can get dinner there when his mood will not let him go out. Coming up and down stairs is like coming into the World and leaving it, Fothergill says."

"But I was talking about the D. R. A., wasn't I?"
"The man said—my dear he had the most beautiful eyes!—he said that our bodies were made up of vibrations, just as our souls are.
Do you see? And when we are not normal, it is because our vibrations are too fast or too slow."

"Ravenswood Wumble—he's always so flippant!"—whispered to me that Gilda Gray ought to submit her vibrations for examination.
I didn't even smile. Though I do think it was funny."

"And this Doctor Abrams—the man who started the cult—can just take a drop of your blood and tell you all about yourself—what's the matter with you, if you're sick, and whether you're going to be a success and what your habits are going to look like. Simply everything!"

"Or if he can't get a drop of your blood, he can do it from your handwriting. Isn't that marvelous?" Yes a pioneer. And all the medical societies are opposing him dreadfully, because they are jealous. Just like they did to poor Coue. Though, of course Coue's message is true! Nobody even talks about Coue any more."

The latest thing Doctor Abrams has discovered—only last week, I think—is that you can prove whether love is true or false by electrical tests. Can you imagine?
Think how many young people will be saved from themselves!

Though, of course, Love can be real without being permanent if you get what I mean. I'm sure there are dozens and dozens of men
I have loved in one way or another and I've forgotten some of their names."

PROTEST.

What good are bodies anyway?
My hair falls out, my teeth decay,
I've rheumatism in my knees,
I've caught a cold that makes me sneeze, I've other troubles worse than these. . . .
What good are bodies anyway?

A slender form with shining face,
My soul's a tink of tiny grace.
I've nose as fine as eyes are bright.
Its feet are quick, its heart is light.
It scurries the lofty lyric height
A slender form with shining face!

What good are bodies anyway?
Why couldn't we arrange it, pray,
To do away with flesh and bone
And drift wherever we are blown,
Each in his simple soul alone?
What good are bodies anyway?

We have a suggestion to offer to the people who are undertaking the task of establishing uniform divorce laws throughout the United States. We submit it in a spirit of helpfulness alone and we wish to say it is a suggestion that has been made by a person of high personal experience (as will be assumed, the more because we de-claim it), but from observation of the race at large.

Our idea is that the principle trouble with the institution of marriage has been in its basic conflict with human nature. To tell you where he asked me best to live. Get him to scribe the house and the grounds surrounding it, the furnishings and luxuries he wants in it.

Then make him a present of the thing exactly according to his specifications, with the proviso that, should he accept it, he must live in that place until he dies.

At the end of ten years, find out what he will give you to take back your gift and your agreement.

THE GARDENER AGAIN.

He thought he saw a mouse
Go floating through the air.
He looked again, and found it was A canvas steamer chair.
"How pitiful a thing," he said,
"That it should languish there!"
He thought he saw a whiffenpoof
Patrolling on a bar;
He looked again, and found it was A customer's cigar.
"Surprising, is it not," he said,
"How strong these rickshaws are!"
He thought he saw a tailor shop
With tailors baking pies;
He looked again, and found it was
A clam of monstrous size.
"It's strange," he said, unblushingly,
"That things should come so near to being what they are!"
He thought he saw a mountain goat
Upon a subway track;
He looked again, and found it was Six chesses in a stack.
"I never should have thought," he said,
"That these would wander back."

should be unnecessary to say that American sentiment must be be accomplished. It has felt that the disorganization of industry would do France more harm than good. But now that the invasion is an accomplished fact, America can only hope the outcome will measure up to French expectations.

encouraging omen for the stage."

JUST FOLKS

By EDGAR A. GUEST

I WOULD NOT GRIEVE TOO

I would not grieve too much. The promise tells That rest is his who sleeps so sweetly there, Beyond the dull, slow tolling of the bells Which marks his passing, life is free from care.

You would not mourn if one you love should rise
To wear the royal purple and the crown,
Should gain the glory of the great and wise
And but the tools of humble service down

Suppose that life should call some friend you know
Out of the ranks, and end his days of care,
You would rejoice and smile to see him go,
Though you remained to work and struggle there.

Should high promotion call some friend away
To crown with conquest all his early years,
You would not plead and beg with him to stay,
But, thinking of his joy, you'd hide your tears.

So when death comes, though hard
It seems to bear
And long the years with all their loneliness,
The loved one has been called away from care
To high promotion, rest and happiness.

He has been called from pain and hurt and strife,
From all the ills which 'fall to flesh and clay,

Nor should we mourn too much who still must stay.

PERSONAL

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

DOPE.

A little while ago Wally Reid was a big strong man. Big fellows usually think that they can take it or let it alone. Thousand of victims of whiskey and drugs have tried to do that. Perhaps the chagrins which overwhelm the drinker in his lucid moments when he realizes that he hasn't the strength to leave it alone, prompts him to venture further and try a sniff, a whiff or a job of heroin, morphine or cocaine. Rumor says they passed the "coke" around in the sugar bowl at some of the "hop" parties in Hollywood. Some such psychology leads the victim down to dope. Morphine, heroin, laudanum, paregoric and codeine are all derived from opium. Codeine is not often used habitually, but paregoric affords a ready means of switching from whiskey to opium, for in order to get enough opium an adult must take a pretty stiff dose of paregoric, stuff in the quantity of alcohol it contains. From paregoric to laudanum, a stronger tincture of opium, is a more advanced step. From laudanum to morphine or crude opium is the final step in the formation of the drug habit.

Many of the most depraved victims of opium or morphine habit began by secret drinking, switched to paregoric then laudanum, and finally the straight drug.

Aside from lassitude and depression and perhaps some nausea unaccountable loss of appetite or digestive disturbance after, or the effects of a dose wear off, the opium or morphine habit may show no signs for several months if the customary dose is unobtainable, sudden outbreaks of hysterical or neurasthenic behavior, or attacks of colic may occur. After a few months of drug taking the victim begins to grow sallow and nervous, his mental state is one of depression ordinarily, with sudden spells of animation and exhilaration after each dose of his drug.
In the cases of the cocaine user, the amounts to intoxication with great talkativeness often hallucinations and, though the cocaine actually weakens the victim, he has unlimited confidence in his capacities and his agility. The eyes sparkle and glister while the intoxication of the drug lasts—a hour or so.
Opium and its derivatives contract the pupils to pin-head size, cocaine dilates the pupils. Following the intoxication there is a period of depression, which comes quickly after cocaine is severe but after the immediate intoxication of opium or morphine wears off there is a period of contentment and quiet "cravings" for more of the drug, the flushed face again becoming pasty or pale, the bright eyes dull and vacant the habits tend to arouse.

These narcotics produce grave effects upon the whole system through their destructive over-stimulation of the involuntary or "sympathetic" nervous system.
They check all secretions, and when this is a daily occurrence, all of the organs suffer degenerative changes. The great emaciation of the drug victim, his shrunken and withered appearance reflect the condition of his tissues and organs.
The nutritive processes become progressively impaired and all the vital functions decline. Some organ may give out here or there as the immediate cause of death unlike the death of the cocaine's wonderful oneness day. Great emaciation and prostration is not rarely responsible for the hypostatic congestion of the lungs which means the terminal feature in many cases. Hypostatic congestion means the accumulation of blood in dependent or lower vessels of the chest from gravity when the heart muscle and breathing become too feeble to maintain the circulation.

The size and frequency of the dose of a narcotic must be constantly increased to obtain the desired intoxication. Enormous quantities are taken by some habitues
—as much as a pint of laudanum a day, though five drops is considered a very fair medicinal dose, or as much as twenty grains of morphine hypodermically, though one-eighth grain is a fair dose.
The tortures a drug habitue suffers when his supply fails or the drug is suddenly withdrawn are beyond tally fatal.

pllicable crimes are due to a peculiar tendency to perversion of the affections. Love is transformed into hate, so that the nomenclature

PHONE BOOK LOCATOR OF LOST SPOUSE

Letters Written by Deserted Woman to All Emersons in Oakland Finds Party Who Joined Husband in S. F.

A letter written by a deserted wife to all the men named Emerson in the Oakland telephone directory, was the means by which Melvin Ray Emerson, East Oakland real estate operator, obtained the information which today led to his filing divorce proceedings against Stella Clark Emerson, charging that she had run away with the other woman's husband.

Emerson said today that he had thought his wife was merely away on a visit until his twin brother, Rex Emerson, of 2226 Sixty-sixth avenue, received the following letter and turned it over to him:

"Mr. Emerson, dear sir:—If you are the party whose wife has left home, I would like very much to have you call and have a talk with me about the matter. I am the wife of the party she is with."

The letter also bore the writer's name and address, according to Emerson, and he quickly called and learned, he says, that his wife was living in a San Francisco apartment with the other woman's husband.

The woman told him, he said, that she had learned that her husband was with a "Mrs. Emerson of Oakland," that she did not know the latter's address or husband's name. So she wrote to all the men named Emerson in the Oakland telephone book. The letter did not reach Emerson directly, because he had no phone, but reached him through his brother.

The divorce complaint, which was filed by Attorney H. L. Hagan, recites that Emerson lost a leg while serving with the A. E. F. during the war, and that the home in which the couple lived at 1205 East Nineteenth street was purchased out of the disability compensation money he received from the government. He asks the court to award the home to him, as well as the custody of the two children, Arline, aged 12, and Melba, 9.

Berkeleyans Would Hasten Ban on Cows

BERKELEY, Jan. 24.—Steps have been taken to circulate a petition to supersede the "two cow ordinance" recently passed by the city council. The movement has the support of the Affiliated Berkeley clubs which at a meeting last night declared in favor of a new ordinance.

The present ordinance provides for the abatement of small dairy plants or barns and individual owners who at the present time have only two cows, within three years time.

It was the sentiment of the meeting last night, that since Berkeley was no longer a rural community that a year ought to be a sufficient time allowance for owners to dispose of their cows and plants.

Representatives of the Longfellow club will appear before the next meeting of the city council and present the new petition for consideration of its members.

Folk Dances From Wide World

The biennial Kermesse presented by Mills College students will assemble more than 150 young women in dance at the Municipal Opera House on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, February 3. The production is under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Rheem Stoner, director of physical education. Nations of the world will be called upon for their most charming native dance. A glimpse of the cast is presented. Above, left to right, MISS DOROTHY REED, MISS FRANCES LITTLE, MISS MARGARET REUTELL. Lower, MISS MARY DANIELS.

KERMESSE BEING REHEARSED NOW BY MILLS GIRLS

More than 150 young women are rehearsing for the biennial Kermesse which Mills College will present in the Municipal Opera House on the afternoon and evening of Saturday, February 3. The creative genius of the students in the physical education, music and language departments has been called upon for the spectacle of motion, color and song, which will be produced under the general direction of Miss Elizabeth Rheem Stoner, director of physical education at Mills.

Four countries will be represented in the pageantry of dances which will demand typical scenes. The settings are being worked out by college women: England, Scandinavia, Greece and the Orient are being called upon to contribute the principal numbers. Perhaps, the outstanding feature will be the Oriental part which is being worked out by students registered in the course taught by Miss Stoner, who mastered her system at Dalorzo College, Germany. Supplementing the four principal scenes will be several entr'actes, including the Columbian and Pierrot dance, a dance fantaisie, and a quaint, old-fashioned dance.

The student committee chairman who are directing the work of producing the biennial Kermesse are: Margaret Foster, manager; Katherine Hackett, costumes; Helen MacConnan, properties; Virginia Simler, business manager; Elizabeth Trowbridge, publicity.

Among the young women who will play prominent parts in the big cast of dancers are Mildred Farquhar, Helen Reynolds, Margaret Reutell, Virginia Law, Mary Daniels, Dorothy Lockinby, Frances Miller, Helen Hall, Leonora Young and Margaret Noe.

FERRY SUICIDE STIRS MYSTERY

No trace was discovered today of the man who is believed to have jumped off the automobile ferry San Mateo last night opposite Yerba Buena on the boat's return trip to Oakland.

After the cry "man overboard" was heard, the ferry was stopped by order of Captain A. Arthow and a life boat was lowered to search for the drowning man. Search lights were also employed to aid in the search.

Frank Santos, a deck hand, reported that he saw the man leap into the water from the boat's railing, and that he carried under his arm a large package.

CITY TO GIVE AWAY TOYON

Grow your own toyon berries for next Christmas.

The board of park directors, striving to find some way to halt the depredations in the hills, yesterday announced that citizens of Oakland will be given shrubs free for the asking, so that they may be propagated at home.

More than 1000 bushes will be given to applicants at park department headquarters at the city hall. The shrub will be culled from the parks immediately after the present rains.

The action of the park directors is taken at the urgent request of the Contra Costa Hills club and various other organizations which complain that hikers have been denuding the hills of shrubbery, despite the fact that a state law prohibits promiscuous picking.

The toyon berries can be grown easily at home.

The park directors also voted to grant the services of Landscape Architect Howard Gilkey and Park Superintendent Lee Kierke to all citizens who plan to plant trees along their street curb line on Arbor Day. This will be done so that there will be no promiscuous planting of trees not adapted to Oakland's soil and climate.

"We want trees in Oakland that will thrive," say the park directors. "The mistakes of the past can then be rectified in a few years."

POWER BOOST REHEARING SET

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 24.—The Railroad Commission today granted a rehearing in the application of the Great Western Power Company for an increase of rates, acting upon a petition of the San Francisco-Oakland Terminal Railway and the San Francisco-Sacramento Railroad Company. The applicants contend that the recent order of the commission fixing rates for the Great Western Power Company is prejudicial to their interests. The rehearing will be held February 21, with Commissioners Seavey and Brundig presiding.

THIS CALIFORNIA SHRINE IS A MILL IN A MILLION—Today, January 24, is the anniversary of the discovery of gold by James Marshall in 1848, at Sutter's Mill. Here is a picture of the old mill, in the tailrace of which gold was first found. All trace of the mill itself has long since disappeared, but the spot is one of California's most cherished heritages. This picture is from an old daguerreotype, destroyed in the San Francisco fire.

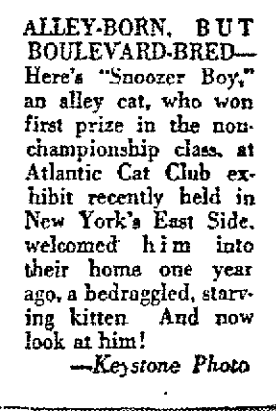

HE'S HER CORPULENT CUTIE—Walter Hiers, movie comedian here shown with his bride, has upset the tradition about nobody losing a fat man. Mrs. Hiers was formerly Adah McWilliams, daughter of Charles R. McWilliams, wealthy shoe manufacturer of Syracuse, N. Y. She and Walter met two years ago at Los Angeles. It was a case of love at first sight. This picture was taken in New York as Hiers and his bride were leaving there on their honeymoon. —Keystone Photo.

ALLEY-BORN, BUT BOULEVARD-BRED—Here's "Snooter Boy," an alley cat, who won first prize in the non-championship class, at Atlantic Cat Club exhibit recently held in New York's East Side, welcomed him into their home one year ago, a bedraggled, starving kitten. And now look at him! —Keystone Photo.

GERMAN CHILDREN SAD OVER YANKS' DEPARTURE—The departure of the 1,200 soldiers of the Eighth Infantry, last of the American army of occupation, is viewed with regret by the German youngsters, for the Yanks often supplied them with food and clothing. UNCLE WIGGILY AND THE BLUEING.

I must dig him out!
the bad animal howled

Down came the snow in Woodland, where Uncle Wiggily lived in his hollow stump bungalow with his animal friends. The white flakes sifted to and fro as though Mother Goose were shaking up feathers to make a bed for Little Boy Blue.

"You'll never go out today, Uncle Wiggily," said Nurse Jane, the mustache lady housekeeper, who looked from the window and saw the snowflakes being piled up in big drifts.

"Of course I'm going out today, Nurse Jane," cried the bumpy little contentment, with a snuffle of his pink nose. "A day when it snows is one of the best for having adventures."

"Very well, then," sighed Miss Fuzzy Wuzzy. "If you will, why you will, and I can't stop you. And as long as you are going out will you get me something from the store?"

"I will do that with pleasure," spoke the bumpy rabbit, bowing politely.

"Thank you," said Nurse Jane. "What do you want?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Blueing," answered the mustache lady. "I want some squares of blue to mix up in the rain water. I put clothes through for the last time."

"My goodness! Will I have to wear blue shirts and collars?" asked Uncle Wiggily, and he was so excited that his pink nose twinkled backward.

"Don't be silly," laughed Nurse Jane. "I put only a little of the blue color in the rain water. It makes the clothes whiter and keeps them from getting yellow."

"Oh, all right," said Uncle Wiggily. "I'll get the chunks of blueing. I wouldn't want to wear yellow shirts and collars any more than I would want them pink, blue or green."

"Uncle Wiggily put on his rubber boots and his fur coat and out into the snowstorm he hopped, to have an adventure, as he hoped, and also to get Nurse Jane's chunks of blueing. And note, things happened to the bumpy rabbit, as I shall tell you.

All of a sudden, as Uncle Wiggily was hopping along, he heard a voice saying:

"Oh, dear! Oh, dear! I'm stuck and I'll never get out!"

"Oh, no!" said Uncle Wiggily to himself. "That is the Blue Nosed Baboon or the Skulley Skulley Alligator stuck in the snow they may stay stuck for all of me! I'm not going to have them nibbling my ears."

But when Uncle Wiggily looked a second time he saw that it was Baby Buntz who was stuck in a snow drift.

"Oh, Baby Buntz! You shouldn't have come out in a storm like this!" cried Uncle Wiggily, as he pulled the little rabbit girl from the snow drift.

"Well, you're out in it," said Baby Buntz, laughing a little.

"That's different," spoke Uncle Wiggily. "I had to come out to get Nurse Jane some blueing and have an adventure."

"Well, you've had the adventure by pulling me from the snow!" said Baby Buntz as a cold feline melted on her little pink nose.

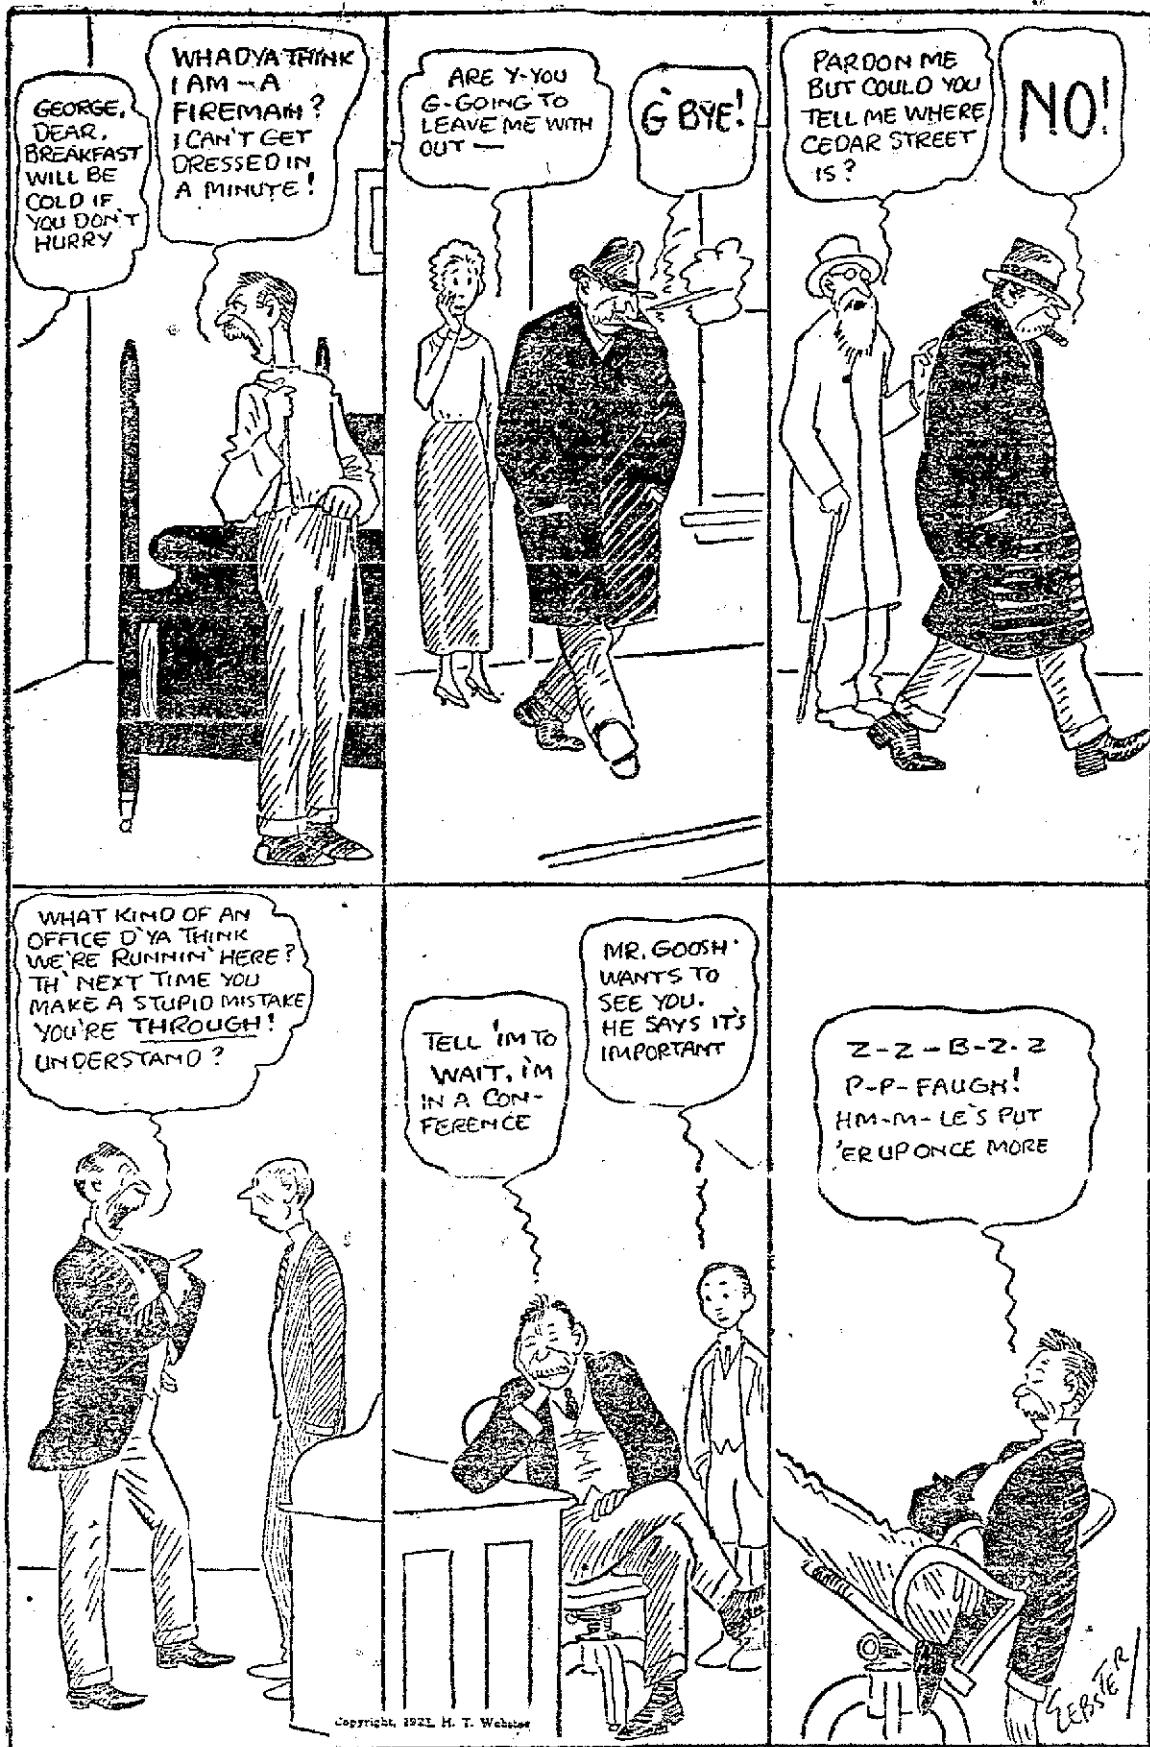

"And now I'll go with you while you get the blueing."

"All right," sighed Uncle Wiggily, for he knew there would be trouble. And there was. And Baby Buntz's legs were so short that she was always getting stuck in snow drifts, and Uncle Wiggily had to pull her out. But at last they bluing.

On the way home through the snow storm, all of a sudden, the Woodie Wolf sprang out from behind a bush and howled:

The Reactions of an All-Night Game

Child's History of the HUMAN DANCE

By Raimond Coppinart

THE END OF ROUND TABLE GLORY.

The king had a nephew named Mordred. He was a mean-hearted fellow. He hated Sir Launcelot.

One day he saw a chance to harm the great knight. With some of his companions, he sought to make the good Arthur jealous of Launcelot's love for the queen.

The king did not like to listen to their talk, but at last he gave in. They laid a trap. There was a bloody fight at the doorway to Guenevere's chamber. Launcelot left the court, but kept himself not far away. He feared that Arthur would doom the queen to die.

I am sorry to say that the king forgot he should act as a noble man. In his jealous fury, he ordered Guenevere to be burned to death. Sir Launcelot and his friends learned the time this was to happen.

Launcelot returned Guenevere to the king, who did not harm her. Launcelot crossed the sea with his knights and men-at-arms.

Then, said to say, those who hated Launcelot led Arthur to start a new war. The king went over the sea with an army, leaving Mordred in charge of England.

Mordred made false report that Arthur was dead. He said he would be king himself.

King Arthur returned to England, and fought a battle with Mordred, who was killed. Arthur was mortally wounded, and soon died.

Launcelot heard the news and came back from across the sea. He found that Guenevere had become a pen. They galloped toward the spot where the queen was held. Striking right and left at all in their way, they picked her up and carried her away.

Launcelot owned a great castle. It was called the Joyous Gard. Guenevere was carried there, to be kept safe from the anger of the king.

Arthur led an army against the castle and laid siege. Week after week the siege went on. One day Sir Launcelot, Sir Bors and other knights sallied out across the drawbridge. There was heavy fighting. The king did his best to get near Sir Launcelot and struck at him whenever he could.

Launcelot would never return the blows, for he still loved Arthur. By and by, Sir Bors rode against the king's army and killed him.

"Stop!" cried Launcelot. "Do not kill him on your life! He is my lord. Never will I consent to his death." With these words, the noble knight sprang to the ground and helped Arthur back upon a horse. The king wept and said he wished the war had never started. For a time there was a truce.

Geraldine's SHOULDER

Listen, World

S. O. S.

I want your help! I have been asked to write an extended article, for Sunday use, on Allowances for children. Does the average American child need an allowance? If so, how much of an allowance? At what age should it begin? Should the allowance for a girl be the same as the allowance for a boy? What restrictions, if any, should be imposed upon the use of an allowance?

This article is to be part of a serious effort to analyze current conditions. Obviously, the manner of life prevailing now is not the manner of life which prevailed when we or our parents were children. The children of today must face demands which we did not face. They need things we did not need. But do they need allowances? And what effect will allowances have on their characters? Many American parents want to know these things.

It would be a comparatively easy matter for me to write my personal opinion on the subject, but such an article would be of little value. The public needs to hear the experiences of all kinds of people dealing with all sorts of conditions. The experiences and opinions of parents and teachers are particularly desired.

So I am sending out this S. O. S. Will YOU tell frankly what you think about allowances for children, what you have observed in cases where allowances have been given, what your experience has been with children who come under your care. Don't mince matters. State frankly what you think.

What do I think of it? I think it's the silliest and the most tragic episode in the history of my back luck to read for many a mournful moon. Why tragic? Because it's TRUE. Exactly thus, and not otherwise, do the "popular" young people reason and act. Here, in its most intimate detail you have the psychology of Youthful 1923. Likewise, here, in its most pitiful detail, you have the psychology of most of their names. Within two or three years this girl will, in all probability, be a wife. She will have entered into the most trying and delicate partnership on earth. What do you think of her preparedness for any sort of partnership?

In all that is most vital, she is profoundly ignorant. Never does she enter her pretty little marcelled head that there may be those who cannot afford marcelled hair and gold gowns. She has no conception of any relationship based on Human Qualities rather than the charm of dry goods.

IT'S THE FAULT OF THE OLDER GENERATION who have given her a heritage of such consummate silliness. She is not a bad little girl nor a conspicuously stupid little girl. She is simply the product of a Point of View which has had our romantic reverence for ages. The only difference between her and the majority of women of an older generation is that she voices her views more frankly. They believe just as implicitly in the omniscience of Dry Goods Shops and Beauty Parlors. Their attitude towards the Great Male Identity is generally speaking, the Great Male likes the attitude. It flatters him tremendously, and because he likes to be flattered, he does not consider a woman to be hearty "feminine" unless she exhibits such an attitude. Not until he begins to reap the results of such a viewpoint does the Great Male awake and repent his folly.

The divorce courts are such a veritable cornucopia of divorces that the Great Male is beginning to feel that he cannot obtain their freedom in the courts. For there is no more grievous fate in all the world than that of being married to a Marcelled Fool, be it male or female.

Never until we reconstruct our whole attitude as regards divorce here, coming to the latter end of this aspect truly ridiculous. But until we do make it appear ridiculous, we have only ourselves to thank for our marital misery.

What is your answer to this? Geraldine—Poor kids! the comic strips with their knife and gun episodes and their Katzenjammer naughtiness, and the terrible pictures the movies show—silly, silly, silly! Mothers, Clarks, wake up! We punish after allowing the young minds to receive the lessons. RATHER inconsistent, are we not?

LILLIAN COULTEE.

I'm going to take issue with you, Friend. I agree that we sadly mislead our children, but I don't think the mischief and roughness of the institutions you quote do as much harm as you think they do. An instinct for adventuring is latent in every normal human. Much of our degeneracy is due to the fact that we haven't enough adventure in our lives. We need enough clean, foolish mischief. Show me the small boy who doesn't dream of being a pirate, who wouldn't like to feign his belt with scalps, who doesn't lick his chops over the crimes he would commit if he had a chance! And I'll show you a spineless little spring or an embryo crook. The Katzenjammer kids, though, with their endless and stupid pranks, are the symbol of real adolescence.

The danger lies not in the urge to raise a rumpus, nor in our literary comments upon that urge. It lies rather in the fact that modern city life offers few adequate outlets for that urge. There's nothing for our youthful dynamo to do. Do you want to know why boys go wrong? BECAUSE NO ONE MAKES AN ALLURING ADVENTURE OF GOING RIGHT.

You can't quench the adventure fires of normal youth. They are a God-given heritage. But what does the youngster find in life to feed those flames? What are the rewards for Good Little Boys?

Steady, Steady, Steady! The rewards for Good Little Boys are: a bank book, a country club or looked with anything but joyful curiosity upon a fall; but the Bad Little Boys get all the heroes. Steady Ladies shudder over them, Fat Policemen chase them, Palpitating Little Girls adore them. And what larks they have! They run away from school, they sneak off to the swimming

IMMOVABLE ORTHODOXY.

The heresy of today is the orthodoxy of tomorrow. That is so because our views of truth change with advancing knowledge. A text book of science is obsolete in ten years, so swiftly is the march of events and the record of new discoveries. Equally the creeds must change with the widening horizon of experience. The only heretic who can be accounted such is the man who says the content of religious thought is fixed and he or his churchly progenitor has fixed it.

In the same catalogue with the immovable orthodox people are the superstitious folk who lay great stress on signs, omens and presentiments.

The astrologers, soothsayers, clairvoyants, palmists, table rappers, hocus precus specialists were in evidence in Assyria and Egypt 2000 B. C. Their method, hoary with age are the same used today. As long as people want something for nothing, and dodge the consequences of disobedience to physical and moral law, so long will they expect some special providence to remove handicaps and disability rather than pluck and hard work.

The immovable orthodoxy still pins its faith to Micawber's philosophy "that something is sure to turn up," that a lucky strike is waiting round the corner, that a rabbit's foot works wonders and it is the height of folly to line up with thirteen at table or fall down stairs on Friday and break a leg.

Within 24 hours these cruel words had been repeated in every home in the town. Ludlow, everyone said, was as mean as they make them.

As the years went on Ludlow became more set in his ways and the duel between him and Missus Clamp was bitter. He attended the Board of Trade meetings, collected his rent, and for the rest of the time kept to his library or his garden. Sometimes he remembered the ambitions that had been his when he moved to the Minden and of his disappointment when he found he could not understand these people, nor they him. He had been stubborn. It was not long before he had given. Cruel landlady, cantankerous old codger! Well, he'd be that. And now he looked forward with pleasure to the regular row with Missus Clamp, as she grew older, found it increasingly difficult to raise the $18 which she must pay for rent each month. She could not see like she used to nor was she able to take in so much wash.

"If it wasn't to spite Old Ludlow, who'd be tickled to death to see me more out," she said. "I'd get a cheaper place, take a room somewhere." So she saved in every way she could and found reward in paying the landlady at the close of each third day.

"I don't think I'd make it, did you?" she shrilled. "Well, I'll be paying rent when you're dead and gone. Behind the curtains in the neighborhood Minden applauded."

The subject of Missus Clamp's increasing poverty came up once in the Board of Trade with the other found the money. The neighbors wondered, and Ludlow left more dignified than ever.

Just before Missus Clamp died she asked the date, and when they told her it was the first she murmured, "Well, I've still got three days of grace." Then she said she wanted to thank the landlady, who was the Ladies Aid had sent her money each month for the last year. "If it hadn't been for that," she smiled, "Ludlow would have thrown me out."

The Ladies Aid, which would have criticized Ludlow had he stayed away, wondered now he had the nerve to attend the funeral. It was not until after the Board of Trade and the Ladies Aid had canvassed all the possibilities did it occur to anyone that it was the landlady who sent to Missus Clamp each month the money he collected in rent.

ORGANIZATION OF RUMABARD MEN IS BEING FORMED

San Leandro Growers Lead in Project to Work Out Plan for Cooperation.

SAN LEANDRO.—As a result of a conference between Harry Smith, Edward Holland, J. P. Ramos and J. J. Smith, rumabard men of the division of the growers, at San Leandro, plans for the formation of a rumabard growers' association are being worked out. Of approximately 125 growers about San Leandro, should 75 per cent of them signify willingness to join the proposed association, immediate organization will be begun.

Although the association, if established, will center in the sections represented by San Leandro and San Lorenzo, considered the greatest production spots of the county, growers from other sections will be taken in. It is estimated that there are produced in this county 100,000 boxes of rumabard annually, selling at an average of nearly $1.50 per box. With such an organization, it is believed that a greater protection could be afforded the growers, a uniform price established and Eastern competition, caused by congestion of market or selling of the product by commission men at irregular prices, could be eliminated. If successful, the association will be the first of any such organizations formed in San Leandro or San Lorenzo.

Germany Is Only Nation Not Showing a Decrease in Building in 1922

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The United States last year dropped from second place to fifth in the ranks of ship-building nations, according to Lloyd register of shipping, which, in its annual report issued today, declared 1922 the poorest ship-building year since 1912, with 2,600,000 tons less production than in 1921.

The line-up of great merchant marines last year was: Great Britain, Germany, France, Holland, United States, Italy and Japan, instead of as in 1921—Great Britain, United States, Germany, Holland, Japan, France, Italy.

was 1,031,081, as compared with 1,518,952, making the American loss $37,000 tons, the British 507,000 tons, and the loss of all the other powers 450,000 tons.

The progressive decline of American ship-building, the Lloyds report shows, is illustrated by the fact that while American yards launched 532,000 tons less than British yards in 1921, the margin was widened to 911,000 last year. In 1921 the shipyards of this country launched 730,000 tons less than other countries excluding Great Britain, but last year the gap was increased 1,200,000.

The volume of world ship-building in 1922 was a third of that for 1919. A quarter of the production was carried out in Germany, the only nation to show an increase over last year and over pre-war years.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Of the 104 German vessels seized by the United States on its entry into the world war, forty-four have been disposed of by the shipping board by sale or transfer; the navy has disposed of three; eleven have been lost at sea; thirty remain under control of the shipping board; fourteen under control of the navy, and two were returned to American owners. Proceeds of the sale of these vessels have been deposited in the United States treasury.

Preferred Death to Suffering from Stomach Trouble

BERKELEY, JAN. 12, 1923.

I have suffered from stomach trouble since July, 1922. It was so painful that I walked the floor day and night. My stomach retained scarcely any food and I felt worse after eating. Having tried many doctors and remedies without gaining any relief, I felt as though I would prefer to die. Something seemed to come up in my throat and choke me. During those awful months of suffering, I lost 26 pounds. My son read an ad in the paper telling of a wonderful cure of stomach trouble made by the FONG WAN HERB CO. The first few days, the herbs did me but little good. Then one day after I had taken the treatment for about a week, I felt very sick indeed. Then my bowels moved and brought out a worm six feet long, with a head and a tail. Now I am feeling fine, and the worm is in the bottle at the FONG WAN HERB CO. in my stomach.

ANNIE MURPHY, 2111 7th St., West Berkeley, Cal.

OAKLANDER HURT
AS AUTO PLUNGES OFF BRIDGE, DIESFred Brown Is Victim of Santa Cruz Crash;
Fresno Killed.

SANTA CRUZ, Jan. 24.—Fred Brown, 3540 Thomas street, Oakland, died at a hospital here early today from injuries received in an auto wreck last night in which Byron T. Patton, of Fresno, lost his life. Patton was killed almost instantly. Brown was brought to the hospital here, where he died at 4 a. m.

The accident occurred when the heavy touring car in which Patton and Brown were driving from Santa Cruz to Pacific Grove failed to make a sharp curve under the railway tracks at Aptos, near here. The machine struck the framework of the overhead crossing and then plunged through the guard rail of the bridge which lies a short distance beyond, dropping 75 feet into Arroyo creek.

It was believed that a clouded windshield, due to heavy rain, made it impossible to see the curve. Patton was a member of the Fresno firm of Eilers, Frost and Patton.

Brown lived in Oakland and was associated with the San Francisco firm of Dunn, Hurst and Brown, brokers.

STOCKTON, Jan. 24.—Fred Flickenger, 52 years old, a cook, of Newman, is believed to be fatally injured at the county hospital as a result of an automobile accident on the highway near here last night. Flickenger's right arm was practically torn in two at the elbow joint. He refused to have the member amputated, and physicians say he cannot live. He also sustained internal injuries.

Flickenger was riding with his employer, F. A. Smith, en route to Merced, when their automobile skidded on the wet road and plunged into a ditch. Both men were hurled headlong from the machine against a bare wire fence. Smith was unhurt.

Blows for Love

MARIE CABRAL, 14, who says she was beaten Tuesday by father for her loyalty to memory of her mother. She has mothered her two brothers and sister since the death of their mother two years ago. The children appearing in the order named are: MANUEL, 9; JOHN, 6; and VIOLET, 4.

Girl Jails Father After Balking His Marriage

Exhibiting a blood-stained dress, and declaring to the police that her father, Manuel Cabral, had beaten her because she objected to his putting a new wife in the place of her dead mother, 14-year-old Marie Cabral today had her father arrested on a charge of battery.

The girl told the police that, since the death of her parent, she had been acting as mother to her three younger brothers and sisters in the Cabral home at 1021 Third street, and under the circumstances she did not believe that a step-mother was necessary. On this ground, she said, she had repeatedly refused to consent to her father's marrying again.

Last night, she said, her father came home intoxicated with a number of companions, and again began arguing with her on the subject of his proposed re-marriage. This time, when she opposed his plan, she declared, he seized her and beat her until the blood came. As a result of police investigation into the girl's story, Marie and a four-year-old sister, Violet, have been placed in the care of an aunt, Mrs. Betina Eira, 1510 Fifth avenue, and arrangements are being made to send Manuel Jr., aged 9, and Johnny, 6, to an orphan's home.

Cabral, who is a stevedore, is being held in default of $500 bail.

U. S. EDUCATION
U. S. EDUCATION
BILL FAVORED IN CHIEF FEATURESC. of C. Endorses Two of the Three Propositions Submitted to Organization.

Supporting the major provisions of the Towner-Sterling bill now before Congress, the board of directors of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce has cast an affirmative ballot with the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

In an effort to sound the opinion of the various communities and to get the ideas of the country's leading educators, the Chamber of Commerce of the United States recently sent a ballot to each Chamber of Commerce holding membership. It submitted the question in three parts, as follows:

1. "Do you favor the creation of a federal Department of Education with a secretary in the President's cabinet?"

2. "Do you favor enlarging the present federal Board of Education?"

3. "Do you favor the principle of federal aid to education in the states on the basis of the states appropriating sums equal to those given by the federal government?"

The committee of the Oakland Chamber of Commerce which investigated this measure was made up as follows: Dr. George E. Pardee, chairman; E. C. Lyon, O. H. Fischer, Leroy Goodrich, Rabbi R. J. Coffee, H. C. Capwell, E. H. Pendleton, Miss Annie Florence Brown, Mrs. Elizabeth Sherman and A. J. Mount.

Wife Asks Divorce
After 25 Years

Petitioning the court for a divorce from Robert F. Meyers, superintendent of a printing company, Mrs. Evelyn I. Meyers charges her husband with associating with other women, one of them named "Mable" and asks for custody of a son, Romyne, aged 18, $100 a month alimony, $350 for costs of suit and funds on deposit in the Bank of Italy. She asks a restraining order to prevent her husband from disposing of the bank deposits. They have two other sons who have reached their majority.

Mrs. Meyers says her husband has frequently remained away from home nights and on July 7, last, called her on the telephone to say he would not be home and during the conversation called to a woman named "Mable." After the phone message he remained away until the middle of the second night, the wife says. When he returned and she asked for an explanation, he packed up his things and left, she says. They married in Oroville, March 1, 1896.

IS KILLED WHEN JOLT FIRES GUNAuto Victim's Death Probed
By Police When Bullet Wound Is Found.

Police investigation of the death at the Fabiola hospital last night of Carl Smith, 54, 1455 Seventy-ninth avenue, night watchman at Mills college, of a gunshot wound, after being struck by an automobile Monday night at Seventy-ninth avenue and East Fourteenth street, today revealed that the shot was apparently fired accidentally from Smith's own pistol when he was knocked down by the machine. Immediately after the accident, Smith was taken to the Fabiola hospital, but the bullet wound was not found until yesterday.

According to the statement today of Dorothy Smith, 17 years old, daughter of the dead man, the pistol found at the scene of the accident with one cartridge discharged, belonged to her father.

EXPLODED BY SHOCK.

After an investigation, police detectives declared that the weapon was accidentally exploded when the taxi-cab struck Smith. The barrel of the pistol, which was apparently bent as a result of the blow, bears out this theory. The firearm was found lying in the street where it had fallen, by the motorman of a street car, a few minutes after the automobile accident. The driver turned it over to the police.

Smith was run down by a taxi driven by Gilbert Stewart, 916 Seventh street, late Monday night. He was taken to the hospital, and Dr. Catherine Reed, the attending physician, did not suspect that a deep wound in his abdomen was a bullet hole.

POLICE INVESTIGATE.

Later when it was discovered that Smith was a night watchman at Mills college, the police determined that the hole had been made by a bullet. Police investigation followed and the exact cause of the man's death was not cleared up until today.

Smith and his daughter lived at the home of J. M. Gilbert at the Seventy-ninth avenue address, and both Gilbert and his wife identified the pistol, found at the scene of the accident, as the property of Smith.

DANCE PLANNED.

RICHMOND, Jan. 24.—A valet-dancing party will be given by Contra Costa Encampment of Odd Fellows on Wednesday evening, February 7, at Richmond hall. The committee in charge of the arrangements is formed by J. H. Johnson, chairman, assisted by Ed Seivers and Dave Wilkins.

Jazz "Disturber" of Poise," Says
Woman DoctorSyncopations Arouse Primitive Emotions, Asserts U. C.
Women's Physician.

BERKELEY, Jan. 24.—"A jazz disturber of poise"—thus has Dr. Ruby L. Cunningham, women's physician at the University of California, afforded a new definition for "jazz." "Jazz adds one's best senses and disturbs poise," says Dr. Cunningham. "Frequent exercise of the emotions stimulated by jazz is injurious to the individual, where a wholesome expression of the higher type of emotions is benefiting."

Dr. Cunningham agrees both with the moralists who say that the American public is "jazz crazy," and with the dramatists who declared that "we do not exercise our emotions." She declares that most persons are attracted to jazz because of its appeal to primitive instincts. Says she:

"A Frenchman thinks nothing of embracing his friends in public, but the American would never dare openly to demonstrate his high type of emotion for fear of being laughed at. He takes refuge in lower types of expression, such as jazz."

CAGERS TO MEET.

RICHMOND, Jan. 24.—The Richmond unlimited basketball team will play the Oakland Y. M. C. A. five on tomorrow evening in the second game of the Eastbay basketball league. The local boys lost their first game to the Trojan athletic club last week by a score of 26 to 18.

Fieldbrave, native of India, when she appears as the principal speaker of the evening tonight at the regular mid-weekly meeting of the congregation of the First Presbyterian church in Santa Clara avenue.

"THE WINKING EYE"Labor Office Won
By United Action

The value of united service action was proved by Oakland acquiring the state labor statistics bureau, according to City Attorney Leon E. Gray, who asserts that the legislative committee appointed by the mayor from the various "lunch clubs" is entitled to great credit for this achievement. "We have wanted this labor bureau for a long time," said Gray. "It was needed to give quicker adjustment to the many little labor problems bound to come up in an industrial city like Oakland. The work of this legislative committee shows what Oakland can do when it gets together on some project."
